EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

POSTMASTER GENERAL GRESHAM is down on the lottery business. That's right.

GOVERNOR PATTISON does not indulge in so much economy as he used to.

How will it sound to say; "The next train leaves for Philadelphia at twenty-four o'clock?"

HON. JOSEPH B. CARR has been nominated by the Republicans of New York for Secretary of State.

NEW HAMPSHIRE, Legislature has adjourned. New Hampshire can have ours if it feels badly about it.

IT does not appear that any of the money contributed to the conscience fund comes from Pennsylvania Legislators.

THE Governor's veto message should be published in all the Sunday papers, as it is the most humorous productions of the day.

POLITICALLY last year was the Republican's Bull Run, but if we are faithful this year will prove our Gettysburg and Appomattox.

THESE are the most melancholy and saddest days of the year to the tax-payers of Pennsylvania who are drained $3,000 a day by a Democratic Legislature.

ONE of the Georgia state senators, according to Atlanta and Macon journals, cannot read or write, and when an autograph book is sent to him a mark is all that he can make.

THE vast population, traffic and turmoil of the world's metropolis are strikingly suggested by the simple statement that 2,200 trains leave the railroad stations of London every twenty-four hours.

Two years ago Wednesday night President Garfield died at Elberon. The drift of political affairs since that time has exemplified the lessons of his life scarcely so emphatically as the fact of his death.

MR. DANA is said by an apologist to support Holman because he is an excellent man to throw at the head of the Democratic donkey when some other man has been nominated. This is the most that it will amount to.

NEW JERSEY, New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania have first-class Republican tickets in the field and will swing around into the Republican column again with large majorities. Next year we'll need them, and they will be on hand.

FOR Governor of Massachusetts, the Republicans have nominated Congressman George D. Robinson. This is a most excellent nomination and is such as to make Governor Butler wonder whether he hadn't better reconsider his determination to again be a candidate.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN tells a reporter that he is "heartily sick" of the rum business. The Democracy of Massachusetts, which was beginning to regard Mr. Sullivan as her favorite son, will now see the necessity of dropping him. He has knocked out his political prospect in one round.

Pattison and the Salary Grabbers.

The resolution cutting off Legislative pay put Governor Pattison in a dilemma, says the Phil'a Press. If he signed it, he would practically join in stopping the salary grab while at the same time insisting that the grabbers must stick to their extra session folly. If he vetoed it, he would virtually declare himself for the indefinite continuance of the three-thousad-dollar-a-day extravagance. The one would exasperate the ten-dollar statesmen who are relied on to carry out the Administration policy; the other would provoke public criticism and condemnation; and either would be awkward and embarrassing. The Governor has chosen the latter horn. He has vetoed the resolution.

The moral effect of this act is to put the Governor squarely on the side of the salary-grabbers. In itself the veto is impotent for any immediate end. It is simply a declaratory resolution. All the practical action is to come hereafter. The matter of pay hangs on legislation; there can be no pay without an appropriation bill, and the Senate at least has committed itself against any bill which shall provide pay beyond the 10th of September. All the same the veto shows where the Governor stands, and he places himself with the salary-grabbers. He had indeed, nothing else to do unless he was completely to abandon his insensate policy. He could not ask the ten-dollar legislators to prolong their pitiful farce, and at the same time declare himself against paying them. If he insisted that it was right to go on without restriction, he must equally insist that it was right to pay on without limit. His whole policy as to the extra session has been a monumental blunder, and this act of arraying himself with the salary-grabbers is its natural capstone.

The reasons by which the Governor attempts to justify his veto are trivial and flimsy. His argument that the resolution violates the constitutional provision for the separate organization of the two Houses is little short of ludicrous. Neither House pretends to instruct the committees of the other. The resolution was the concurrent action of both Houses, and all legislation comes in the same way. Nor is there much more force in the second objection, that the proposition contravenes the principle that the pay of public officers shall not be reduced during their term The Legislature must pass the appropriation bill providing for its own pay; and if it chooses to provide for its own pay only to a particular day, who shall question it? The Governor has not another reason to give, and the poverty of his argument betrays the utter weakness of his cause.

It was expected that the Governor would seize the opportunity to lecture the Legislature on the subject of apportionment, and the lecture is as unwarranted in its assertions as his position is false in its character. He assumes that the House seeks an agreement and that the Senate is the only obstacle. Every intelligent and candid man knows that this is not true. The Senate has frankly and honestly declared precisely what it would do; it has passed bills which are fair and just; and the State can have an apportionment to-morrow if the House chooses to accept them. The Governor's treatment of the question is disingenuous and unworthy. He has suffered himself to be misled and betrayed into a course which cannot be justified, and the more he attempts to get out of the mud the deeper he plunges into the mire. The culmination of his blunders is this act which puts him on the same platform with the salary-grabbers.

NEW YORK ocean steamships have taken 31,261 passengers to Europe since May 1. If these, on an average, spent $2000, a low estimate, the total is $62,631,000, or a twelfth of our exports during the last fiscal year, and one-half larger than the so called "balance of trade" during the past seven months of the present fiscal year.

Democratic Dissensions.

The Franklin Repository, in pointing out some of the disturbances which have crept into the Democratic party, has this to say in reference to our own State: In Pennsylvania the Democratic party is far from being harmonious. The election of Governor Pattison was a misfortune for them which has already borne them bitter fruit. Being narrow-minded, incompetent and inexperienced, his administration has been a succession of blunders from the start, and will continue so until its final and unsatisfactory closing. The appointment of Cassidy, who is avowedly a candidate for the United States Senate, was a blunder that amounted almost to a crime. He should have appointed a man of the same style and affiliations Secretary of the Commonwealth, but having determined apparently to run a piebald administration, he appointed Cassidy's opposite in the person of Hon. William S. Stenger, of Chambersburg. The convening of the legislature in extra session was a mistake that no man with an ordinarily level head would have made. The Governor had before him the results of a session of more than five months continuance, when the apportionment question was exhaustively discussed, and when both parties agreed that they could not agree on apportionment bills, they adjourned by common consent, without any fear of revolution or anarchy in the future; or any thought of a violated Constitution, to disturb their sleeping or waking moments. Here the question should have rested as the legislature intended it should, but a reckless Governor inaugurated the present farcial proceedings, which have cost the State near three hundred thousand dollars. That Pattison is a failure a large portion of his party now privately or openly concede.

The Democratic party has other internal troubles that constantly disturb its peace. Wallace and Randall, and their respective factions, fight shy of each other, and there are numerous bosses of smaller calibre fighting for recognition. It is not apparent that Boss Gordon aspires to be anything more than a tail to the kite of Pattison.

THERE are a good many readers of the history of the United States, says the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, who are sure that the belief in witchcraft in this country came to an end with the Salem iniquities of 1692 But this happy confidence is far from being justified by certain rude facts that from time to time crop out from Maine to California. The latest instance occurred in Stony Creek valley, Berks county, whence a respectable family named Boyer have been compelled to depart, owing to their being suspected of supernatural practices. Old Mrs. Boyer was devoutly believed to be a witch, and if anybody doubted the charge the persons upon whom she had cast her evil eye could actually be shown. What more was wanting? It has been long since a charge of necromancy has been so strenuously maintained. All the means of exorcism were perseveringly tried, but these failing, the accused family were forced to leave the credulous neighborhood which they were thought to have brought under Satanic influence. It is time that vulgar superstition like this should be rooted up, even in Berks county. People have no right not to employ common sense merely because they live at a distance from metropolitan centres of thought.

THE legislature is now likely to sit as long as there is a dollar in the state cash box. Nothing but an empty treasury will drive the Democratic reformers away.

PROTECTION is the key-note of Republican platforms this year. It sets the tune to which the Republican party marches now and in the future.

A Model Platform.

The Republicans of New Jersey, at their recent State convention, adopted the following brief and excellent platform of party policy:

1. The Republicans of New Jersey, in convention assembled, declare as follows: They re-affirm, as to all questions of Federal policy, the doctrines enunciated by the last Republican National Convention.

2. That we cordially approve the wise and conservative course of President Arthur's administration.

3. That we congratulate the country upon the successful application of the principles of genuine civil service reform in the National Administration, and favor the adoption of the system in all branches of our State Government.

4. We believe that the prosperity and happiness of our own people are of paramount importance, and, therefore, we insist upon a tariff so adjusted as to give full protection to home labor and industry, and sufficient to develop all resources of the country, and we favor such wise and proper state legislation as will protect honest labor from unfair competition.

5. That we demand such a prudent and economical administration of the affairs of the state as will make needless any direct state tax.

6. That we hold it to be one of the most imperative demands of the time that our system of state taxation should be so exactly equitable as to reach all corporations, as well as all individuals—"all property to be taxed," in the language of the constitution, "under general laws, and by uniform rules, according to its true value." That we are opposed to all encroachments of corporate power upon popular rights, and we demand that all monopolies that oppress the people and unfairly discriminate against their interests shall be curbed and restrained by proper legislation.

7. That we favor legislation toward the adequate protection and further development of our fisheries.

8. That we pledge to the candidate of this Convention our earnest, hearty and enthusiastic support.

SENSIBLE words from the Altoona Tribune: The salvation army is having a rough time of it in all quarters of the globe. In several cities of our country the army has been directed to move on, while in divers European prisons its officers and members languish. We have no sympathy with the extravagant methods of the salvation army. Yet it is admitted by intelligent observers that it has done great good in England. It has not succeeded in this country, the only emotions excited by its appearance in any community being curiosity and amusement. But we doubt if the army is anywhere half as great a nuisance as the rum shops whose handiwork creates incessant uproar in our larger cities and sometimes in our smaller towns."

UNTIL the worst that is feared is known to be true respecting the fate of the Greely observation party, their friends and the public will entertain some hope of their final rescue And in this state of the public mind Chief Engineer Melville's offer to organize and take charge of an expedition for the relief of the missing party brings with it such inspiration as always accompanies any heroic action. Melville knows the Arctic region and the bitterness of its privations. And as he has experience and undoubted courage the Navy Department can hardly do a better thing than accept his offer and then swear off from all further efforts in the direction of the North Pole.

THE Postmaster General gives fresh evidence that he is in earnest in the war against the lottery thieves, and the New Orleans bank which undertook to help the Louisiana lottery to evade the orders of the department is likely to get itself into trouble. Public opinion will cordially support the Postmaster General in the most vigorous and far-reaching effort to preserve the United States mails from being made a medium of fraud.

A BOSTON journal wonders whether, after all, Bret Harte is not the greatest living American writer of fiction. As this wonder is from Boston, Mr. Harte may be satisfied.

GEORGE TOWNSEND, of Helena, Ark., was in St. Louis a few days ago en route to Washington for the purpose of depositing in the Smithsonian Institution the bones of no less illustrious a person than Ferdinand de Soto. At least Mr. Townsend is himself convinced that the mortal relics which he exhibited to a St Louis reporter are those of the great explorer. He found them on the shore of Old Town Lake, near Helena, and he was negotiating their sale to the Spanish Government for $50,000 with the late Spanish Minister, Senor Barca, when that unfortunate diplomat expired. Mr. Townsend explains that the point where the bones were found was once covered by the Mississippi, which now flows thirty miles away.

AN INDEPENDENT newspaper sums up the proceedings of the Democratic House at Harrisburg, on Wednesday last, in the following paragraph, which will answer for a description of the sessions held daily:

The House was in session again yesterday. A Republican made a speech in favor of an early adjournment. A Democrat made a speech against adjourning without passing the apportionment bills. A Democratic apportionment bill, drawn with especial view to taking care of the particular county in which the author of the bill resides, was read the first time. A Republican resolution from the Senate was referred to a committee. A Republican member undertook to wave the bloody shirt The Democratic Speaker ruled him out of order. The House then adjourned. Another $3,000 taken out of the pockets of the taxpayers of the State.

IMPECUNIOUS members of the legislature will not be compelled to lunch in the Harrisburg market house, since the governor has decided that they cannot stop their per diem of ten dollars. He admits that he cannot collar them and drag them into the state treasury to receive it, but it is reasonable to suppose that, after the veto, it will not be necessary to resort to physical force to induce them to pocket the swag. They will fall back on the constitution and veto and say that they have executive authority to continue their raid on the treasury, and the extra session is now likely to go on for the balance of the year. As a reformer young Governor Pattison "is a daisy."

THE Lutherans of Berks appear to be making preparations for a grand commemorative demonstration on November 10th, the four hundredth anniversary of Luther's birth. It is proposed by the churches to hold these exercises on the fair grounds, at Reading, where there will be ample opportunity for the followers of the doctrines of the great German Reformer to participate. The ceremonies will consist of singing, religious services and suitable addresses. The Lutherans in Berks deserve credit for taking hold of this matter, especially as a large share of the second great German immigration were of that denomination.

ON THE day that Governor Pattison was inaugurated he walked from the Harrisburg station to the State House in order to save ten cents. Let us give him due credit for this economy. But he called an extra session which has cost $324,000 and his economy is set forth in the following statement:

SAVED.

1883.
Jan. 16—One Fare.....$0.10

SPENT.

Sept. 22—To 108 days extra session at $3,000 per day.....$324,000.00

Balance (not) in Treasury.....$323,999.90

WHEN Democrats persuade negro conventions to pass Democratic resolutions, as they did in Ohio the other day, they are but imposing upon them, as they were accustomed to before the war. The only difference is that in ante-bellum times the Democrats used whips to lash the negroes into slavery and now they employ specious words to prejudice them against their natural friends, the Republicans.

A New Hampshire paper relates that an elderly lady lately went visiting from Weare to Hopkinton, in that State, wearing a bonnet 10 years old, with crape upon it that was 60 years old and with a veil that was 53 years old, and yet her head-dress was not shabby to New Hampshire eyes.

The wearing of rattlesnake skins as girdles is a new fashion set by the wife of a chemist, who, while at a picnic in the woods of Sullivan county, New York, boldly killed the reptile. She had the skin properly cured, retaining the head and its fourteen rattles, and now values the girdle at $250.

Charles Goodnight has the largest cattle ranch in the world at the head of Red river, Texas. He began buying land four years ago, getting 270,000 acres at 35 cents an acre. The price has risen to $2 an acre. He is still buying. He controls 700,000 acres. To enclose his lands 250 miles of fence is required. He has 40,000 cattle.

The story comes from North Carolina of a dog that climbs trees after opossums and coons. He doesn't stick his toe nails in like a cat, but climbs like a boy. Recently he shinned up a big elm and caught an immense coon. During the fight that ensued they both fell to the ground, but the dog had the best of the fall and won the trick.

A farmer in Yates county, New York, a few days since lost the early partner of his joys and sorrows. He buried her in a private cemetery and erected a marble slab to her memory. In a short time he married a second wife. He then ploughed up his first wife's grave and now uses the tombstone for a stepping block in front of his house.

The old "Slate Furnace" in Bath county, Kentucky, is said to be the oldest furnace in the west. It commenced operation in 1791, and continued running 47 years. The cannon balls used against Packenham's host by General Jackson at the battle of New Orleans were manufactured at Slate Furnace. Many balls made at that time, and not shipped, are on duty in Eastern Kentucky as door stops.

A farmer in Essex county, New York, had five of the fresh-air fund boys from New York City, and a tough lot they proved to be. The first forenoon they were on the farm they hung the farmer's pet Newfoundland dog to an apple tree, and in the afternoon they placed his light wagon full of unripe pumpkins across the railroad track as a train was approaching, and the wagon and pumpkins were knocked into smithereens.

Poetry.

RHYME OF THE RAIL.

J. G. SAXE.

Singing through the forests,
Rattling over ridges,
Shooting under arches,
Rumbling over bridges,
Whizzing through the mountains,
Buzzing o'er the vale—
Bless me! this is pleasant,
Riding on a rail!

Men of different "stations,"
In the eye of fame,
Here are very quickly
Coming to the same.
High and lowly people,
Birds of every feather,
On a common level,
Traveling together!

Ancient maiden lady
Anxiously remarks
That there must be danger
'Mong so many sparks;
Roughish looking fellow,
Turning to the stranger,
Says it's his opinion
She is out of danger!

Market woman careful
Of the precious casket,
Knowing eggs are eggs,
Tightly holds her basket;
Feeling that a smash,
If it come, would surely
Send her eggs to pot,
Rather prematurely!

Singing through the forests,
Rattling over ridges,
Shooting under arches,
Rumbling over bridges,
Whizzing through the mountains,
Buzzing o'er the vale—
Bless me! this is pleasant,
Riding on a rail!

GIVE HIM A LIFT.

Give him a lift! Don't kneel in prayer,
Nor moralize with his despair;
The man is down, and his great need
Is ready help, not prayer and creed.

'Tis time when wounds are washed and healed,
That the inward motive be revealed;
But now, whate'er that spirit be,
Mere words are but mockery.

One grain of aid just now is more
To him than tomes of saintly lore.
Pray, if you must, in your heart,
But give him a lift, give him a start.

The world is full of good advice,
Of prayer and praise and preaching nice;
But the generous souls who aid mankind
Are scarce as gold and hard to find.

Give like a Christian—speak in deeds,
A noble life's the best of creeds;
And he shall wear a royal crown
Who gives them a lift when they are down.

Our Story Teller.

Weighed in a Balance.

"The loveliest wedding-dress imaginable! White satin—that delicate, creamy tint, so fashionable—both dress and veil from Worth's; and then, oh! Marie, she has such pearls—great, milk-white beauties! Isn't it a fine thing to be a bride, when the bridegroom is young, and handsome, and rich, like Mr. Huntingdon?

Marie Seymour smiled, but made no observation, and the voluble female went on:

"And so, as I was saying—(hand me the white silk, please, Marie; this lace is the awfullest thing to sew on)—there will be no end of fun in this house when the grand wedding comes off next month! Marie, child, what is the matter? Are you sick?"

Marie's pale little face dropped over the rich embroidery in her hands, upon which she was stitching away for dear life; but her voice was firm and unwavering as she answered, and no one could guess the heart-ache she was hiding.

"No, Miss Dent, I am not sick—only a little tired of this hard work! Sewing from morning till night does not tend to improve health or spirits. My only wonder is, how you have managed to exist so long in this way."

"Of course you wonder, child!" the old maid seamstress returned; "I wonder myself sometimes. But, you see, I was left an orphan at sixteen, and had to do something for a living. I liked to sew, and was a pretty good hand at it; so I took up the hard occupation of seamstress, and have been fighting poverty in a hand-to-hand conflict ever since. It's hard times for a lone woman who has to keep the wolf, starvation, at bay with the shining point of a needle."

"I am an orphan also," remarked Marie Seymour, sadly, and my fate will be like yours."

Miss Dent shook her iron-gray head decisively.

"I think not—I think not!" she reiterated. Let us fervently pray that your destiny will be a brighter one than mine? But I was telling you all about the trousseau. Where was I, Marie?—oh yes—but before I continue, let me ask you something. You have lived in the same house with Allen Huntington for six months. Do you really believe that he loves the woman whom he is going to marry? Miss Berkely is beautiful but, Marie, do you know I half believe she is marrying young Huntington for his money."

"Miss Dent!"

The face of the young girl was pale, and her eyes wore a startled look.

"Can't help it, my dear," pursued the spinster—"that is my belief! I may be mistaken; I hope I am."

"Oh! I am sure you are!" cried Marie, eagerly. "Miss Berkeley must love Mr. Huntington. I am certain! Why how could she help loving him—so good, so noble.

As Marie uttered these words, she chanced to glance up. Right before her on the opposite wall hung a large mirror; it reflected the door of the sewing-room and as Marie glanced up it reflected something else. The tall, graceful figure of a man—dark-eyed, dark-faced. Marie stifled an exclamation of dismay, and her work fell unheeded from her hands.

It was Mr. Allen Huntingdon. But the gentleman, who was about to enter the room, changed his mind evidently, and thinking himself unnoticed by either of its occupants, closed the door softly and stole away.

Allen Huntingdon went into his elegant library and sat down to think. He looked troubled, and as his eyes wandered over the broad domains, which were all his own he sighed involuntarily.

"Do I love her?" he queried. "The words of the seamstress, Miss Dent, have struck a responsive chord in my heart. I begin to see the truth now. I do love Marion Berkeley; and she—she cares for and covets my wealth. If that be true (and I know that Miss Dent is not addicted to malicious gossip), then, indeed, my fate would be wretched."

For a time the young man sat, wrapped in deep thought. Suddenly he started to his feet.

"I will do it!" he exclaimed. "Dear little Marie, I have known her in her former prosperity, and when she was left a lonely, poverty-stricken orphan my mother opened our doors to receive her in the humble capacity of sewing girl, but she is no less the lady! She is true and pure, and I have found out my own heart at last. Well, I will prove the truth now, and will see how the land lies."

The next day, Marion Berkeley, a handsome brunette, with glorious black eyes, and a haughty manner, sitting in her boudoir, received a note from her betrothed husband, which ran as follows:

"DEAR MARION: Could you—would you wed 'genteel poverty?' Are you willing to marry me, when you have heard that I have lost one-half my fortune?

Yours as ever,
ALLEN HUNTINGDON."

A terrible change crept over her handsome face. Pallid with anger she arose and carried the letter to her mother.

"What are you going to do, Marion?" asked Mrs. Berkeley.

"Drop it at once," she returned, scornfully. "Why, mother, just think! I can marry old Effingham—he is worth a round million! But of course, I chose Mr. Huntingdon, for he is young and handsome."

"And—you do not love him then?"

"Love him?"

The beauty's face was the very picture of scorn.

"I loved his fortune, and I was willing to accept it, even with the disagreeable addition of himself, since there was no alternative!"

"Marion!"

"It is true, mamma; and see here!"

She opened Allen Huntingdon's letter again, and wrote one word under the last line—that word "No." Then she drew the costly engagement ring from her finger, and folding it inside the note, slipped all into one envelope, which she sealed and addressed to Mr. Allen Huntingdon. Then she rang for a servant, and ordered the note delivered at once.

* * * * *

Allen Huntingdon was walking in the garden, in the sunset. Marie Seymour, on a seat not far distant, was enjoying the cool evening air, after her day's confinement in the sewing-room. It was then a servent appeared with the letter from Miss Berkeley.

Allen smiled as his eyes fell upon its contents—he did not look at all unhappy or like a rejected lover. He carried the note straight to Marie, and bade her read it. She obeyed wonderingly, her dark eyes dilating with surprise.

"I am sorry, Mr. Huntingdon," she said softly and sympathetically—"sorry that you have suffered from pecuniary losses, and so sorry you have lost the woman whom you love."

He took her little brown hand in his own.

"Marie," he whispered, "I have not lost the woman I love, provided that you can care a little for me."

"I? Mr. Huntingdon, you can not mean it?"

"But I do," he went on. "I have known you long, Marie, and—I love you. I knew it even when I wrote this note to Miss Berkeley; but I determined to test her truth and sincerity; and I am satisfied. Tell me, Marie, do you love me?"

"But—your mother," whispered Marie.

He pressed his lips to hers.

"My mother is in the secret, darling," he returned, "and she is more than pleased. But you have not answered me. Do you love me, Marie, and will you be my wife?"

And Marie, blushing like a rose, whispered:

"Yes."

And they had been married some time when Miss Berkeley ascertained that Mr. Huntingdon's letter was merely a ruse to discover the depth and truth of her affection, and that his fortune was as large as ever. She never forgave him, but she married "old Effingham," and reigns to-day, queen of fashionable society.

Arousing His Sympathies.

"I see you have a lot of misfit pants," observed a stranger as he halted before a Jefferson avenue clothing store yesterday.

"My friendt, vhalk in. I hab more misfits ash would fill haf der State of Michigan."

"What do you call a misfit?"

"Vell, somedings ash doan' blease somepody who orders 'em, and somedimes der cutter makes a mistake in the figgers."

"You keep a tailor, I suppose?"

"Six dailors, mine friendt, and all dey do is to make mistakes and misfits in order to keep up my stock like you see."

"Is that so? Well, now, what ails this pair?"

"Dot pair," replied the dealer, as he shook them, "vhas made for a young man who vhas to be married last week. Der girl dies mit a fever, and so he doan' come after his cloze. I lose shust four dollars on that pair."

"And these?"

"Vell, dot pair was made for a deacon in der church who vhas sparking up a vidder womans. Der left leg is smaller ash der right and he doan' take 'em. I sell you that pair for tree tollars."

"Here's a stylish looking pair which would about fit me. Whom were these made for?"

"My friendt, dot sthrikes a sad cord in my heart. He was a young man who vhas to wear dose pants at a bridal. Der color vhas selected to match der bride's complexion, but shust one day before der marriage she changes complexions und dose pants vhas no good. Dot vhas a loss of ten dollars to me, und der young man vhas so mortified dot he shump in der rifer und vhas drowned."

"Whom were this blue pair made for!"

"For a shudge, my friendt—one of our leading shudges. Der cutter makes a mistake, you see? Der shudge vas a man who vhalks mit his toes turned out, vile dose pants vas cut for a man who vhalks mit his toes turned in. I lose seven dollar on dot pair."

"Well, I declare! You'll lose all of $500 on this lot, won't you?"

"My loss vhill be ofer $1,000, und last week I haf a fire und no insurance, my vhife breaks her leg, and der landlord raises on my rent almost a half."

"Great ginger! Why, I should think you would shut up shop!"

"If I do dot den where you get some misfit pants?"

"That's so—that's so. You are what they call a human—a humanitarun, I reckon."

"Vhel, I vhas human, I s'hpose."

Treasure in a Chimney.

A special dispatch from Cheektowago, N. Y., says: In the summer of 1879 a stranger appeared at the farm of Solon Bruce, near this place, for work. His hair was cropped short and his face was forbidding. He gave his name to the farmer, and told him plainly that he had been discharged from Sing Sing only a short time, where he had been serving a sentence of two years for burglary. He said that he was desirous of leading an honest life, and referred the farmer to the prison authorities. Mr. Bruce was struck with the man's apparent true repentance and told him he might remain at the farm until the prison officers were heard from, and that if their report was good he would be given work. The report was good, and the man was put to work on the farm. He remained in the service of Mr. Bruce until last fall, having been during all that time a faithful and industrious employe. He went by the name of Wilson, and said that he had been brought up as a pickpocket and thief from childhood. Last fall he resolved to go South. Nothing was heard from him until a few days ago, when Mr. Bruce received a letter from him. He was in Texas. He said in his letter that, as he might never come this way again, if Mr. Bruce would make a search in his chimney he would find several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry which the writer had taken from people in the street in years past, and which he could not restore, as the identity of the owners could not be known. He told Mr. Bruce to dispose of it as he thought best. The farmer searched in the chimney, and found at least $1,000 worth of gold rings, pins, watches and other valuable jewelry. Not wishing to have anything to do with the stolen property, he shipped it by express to Wilson. What puzzles the farmer is to know where and when his late employe obtained the jewelry, as it is not likely that he could have come from the prison with it on his person. It looks as if the reformed thief had been plying his former trade during visits which he made occasionally to Buffalo, Lockport, and other neighboring towns and cities while he was working on the farm.

Life of Royalty.

An American lady who has been passing some time in a circle very close to the Crown in England sends some curious and entertaining details of the private life of royality to a friend in this country. She writes: "The personal attendants of her Britannic Majesty have a pretty hard life of it." They are not so badly treated as poor Miss Burney was, when she went into bondage as second keeper of the robes to Queen Victoria's grandmother, but, "taking one consideration with another," their lot is not a happy one. The Hon. Horatia Stopford, a cousin of the Earl of Courtown and one of the Queen's favorite amanuensis, writing most of her letters and taking down whatever she dictates, and, as etiquette requires Miss Stopford to stand while thus engaged, she passes whole hours sometimes writing at an upright desk when Her Majesty happens to be in an epistolary mood. On the recent confinement of the Duchess of Albany, the Queen, who took a very particular interest in the event, never sat down once from nine in the morning until six in the evening, to the intense weariness and disgust of the unlucky maids of honor in attendance. The mother of the Duchess of Albany, the Princess of Waldeck Pyrmont, was equally provoked, as she thought herself as much entitled as the Queen, if one may use such very low language in such a high connection, to "boss the job;" and the two mothers-in-law kept politely and persistently inviting one another to take a rest and let the poor Duchess enjoy a little quiet. When it was all over and a little Princess of Albany had come into the world, it was the turn of the father. His Royal Highness the Duke of Albany, on being informed of the result, quite lost his temper, and stamped on the floor with rage that the child should not have been a prince. As a general thing, however, the Duke of Albany gives less trouble to those about him than any of the royal family. His older brother, the Prince of Wales, exacts constant and assiduous attendance of his household, but he is personally considerate of them, and changes his equerries once a month in order to relieve the strain put on them. He never opens a book or so much as glances at a newspaper, but his officers are all bright and clever, and keep him accurately informed of everything that is going on in politics and in society.".

A Gettysburg Relic.

The Hazelton Sentinal publishes the following incident which occurred at the late encampment of the G. A. R. at Gettysburg: "Among the veterans who accompanied Robinson Post was John Shaffer, at present residing at Drifton, who was a member of the 143d regiment. He went to Gettysburg last Saturday, and on Sunday while he was rambling over the field with a number of his old comrades he told them he was going to search for his canteen which he had hidden under a flat stone just before going into action on the first day of the fight. It seems that when his regiment was ordered to move forward, John had procured a piece of fresh beef, and, in order to cook it he had made a frying pan of his canteen by splitting it in half, something often done by soldiers in the army. In the hurry and excitement of the moment he had no time to prepare his meal and in order to save his frying pan he lifted up a flat stone and placed the improvised pan under it with the intention of finding it again should he return. Contrary to all expectations the regiment did not return to the same position, and Shaffer's frying pan was forgotten. Having a distinct recollection of the spot where it was hidden he had no difficulty last Sunday in finding the identical flat stone and on raising it there lay the precious old canteen where it had lain for twenty years. It is said Shaffer almost shed tears of joy on finding the rusty reminder of camp life. His comrades gathered around him and in a few minutes the remains of the old canteen was divided into small pieces and distributed among them to be preserved as a relic of the battle field of Gettysburg.

All Sorts.

A sad-hearted poetess asks: "Why do we sing?" Perhaps it's because you don't know what the public feeling is in your immediate neighborhood.

CAUSE FOR APPREHENSION.

Why Mysterious Physical Troubles Arouse Special Dread.—A Professional Experience.

Few things give more pain than dread or apprehension. Most people are able to face apparent danger heroically, but the sudden and unexpected coming of some indefinite calamity very naturally strikes terror to even the bravest. For this reason lightning and tornadoes are considered terrible; their coming and going so sudden, unannounced and unknown. For this same reason an unknown disease, some poison in the blood, some malady that is gradually undermining the life is specially dreaded by all thinking people. And, indeed, there are good reasons for such dread, for modern science has discovered that some virulent disorders show the least signs in the beginning, while they have the worst possible symptoms. We know of many persons who have dull and uncertain pains in various portions of the body; who are unnaturally tired one day and apparently well the next; who have an enormous appetite at times and a loathing of food soon thereafter. Such persons are really in a dangerous condition, even though they may not realize it. The following statement of a most prominent physician, who has had unusual opportunities for investigation is of so striking and important a nature that it will be read with interest by all:

O. ANDERSON, M., D., SUP'T.
CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 2, 1882.

Messrs. Editors:

I have, during my professional career of many years' practice, treated a large number of disorders, of which, perhaps, none have given me more trouble than the mysterious disease known as acute nephritis; and while it may seem strange, it is, nevertheless, true that the physician is greatly annoyed by this mysterious trouble, especially when the case is hereditary. It is, doubtless, the first stage of the well-known, but terrible Bright's disease, as the kidneys contain large quantities of albumen; and while children and young people are especially liable to its attacks, it is prevalent with all classes, and usually continues until late in life.

One obstinate case which came under my observation, was that of a fireman of this city who applied to me for treatment. The case was diagnosed parenchymatous nephritis. The man was twenty-four years of age; plethoric and light complected. He stated that he had suffered from urinary troubles from childhood and that he had "doctored" a hundred times, each time improving some; after which, in a short while, he would relapse into his former state of misery. I prescribed the usual therapeutics known to the profession with the same result that my colleagues had obtained. He got better for a while and then worse again; in fact, so bad that he had to lay off for some time. He suffered intense pain; so much so that I confess I had to resort to hypodermic injections of morphia. My druggist, who knew how disgusted I was with the case, although not willing to desert the man, advised me to try a remedy from which he (the druggist) himself, had derived great benefit. As a drowning man catches at a straw, I prescribed this remedy, not letting my patient, however, know what I was giving him; and, although not a believer in nor a patron of "patent medicines, I must confess that after my fireman had taken one bottle he grew much better. I made him continue its use for a period of two months, with the most gratifying results; it really worked wonders and he owes his cure and present perfect health solely to the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the remedy which I prescribed, and he used.

Since the recovery of the man above mentioned, I have given considerable thought to the subject of acute nephritis, or kidney difficulty, and I find that its manifestations are most remarkable. It often appears without any special symptoms of its own, or possibly as a sequel to some other disease. It may be a sequel to scarlatina, diphtheria and other illnesses, and may even arise from pregnancy. The first symptoms frequently show themselves in the form of high, fierce and intense pains in the lumbar region, "the small of the back," troublesome micturitions and frequent changes in the color of the urine which at times diminishes perceptibly. If the urine is entirely suppressed, the case, probably, will terminate fatally in a very few days. Dropsy is a consequence of the suppression of urine, and the severeness is governed by the proportion of retention. The nervous system becomes prostrated with subsequent convulsions and irregular circulation of the blood, which, in my estimation, eventually might cause a diseased heart to give out. As I have remarked, in many kidney diseases—yes, even in Bright's disease itself—there is no perceptible pain in the back, and these troubles often assert themselves in various symptoms—for instance, in troublesome diarrhœa, blood poison, impaired eyesight, nausea, loss of appetite, disordered digestion, loss of consciousness, husky voice and many other complaints too numerous to mention. Indeed thousands of people are suffering from the first stages of Bright's disease to-day, and they do not know it.

In conclusion, I would like to state that I have, since my success with the fireman, repeatedly prescribed Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and if my professional brethren could only be brought so far as to overcome their prejudice against proprietary medicines they would, undoubtedly, find themselves recompensed for their supposed sacrifice of liberty, as well as by the great benefits that would accrue to the world.

Most Sincerely,
O. ANDERSON, M. D.,
Superintendent.

He Tied Himself to a Cow.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Yesterday morning George Huston was milking a cow in the barnyard of Mrs. Smith's residence. The cow was very restless, as the flies were bothering her, and she switched her tail almost constantly. George was annoyed by the tail switching in his face, and he finally tied it fast to his ankle. A few minutes later the cow became frightened and rushed around the yard, dragging Huston over the ground at a lively rate. A milkman passing by saw the critical position the boy was in. He went to his assistance. Failing to corner the cow, he seized the boy by the shoulders just as the cow jumped over the fence. The sudden stop caused the tail to break off close up to the body. The boy was not seriously injured.

Lieut. Greely's Peril.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Secretaries Lincoln and Chandler were in consultation again to-day with regard to the possibility of relieving the party of Lieut Greely. Commodore Walker, Dr. Bessels, the Arctic explorer, and Capt. Mills of the Signal Service were also present. The conclusion reached, after Dr. Bessels had been heard, was that nothing could probably be done this year to relieve the Greely party. A final decision, however, will not be made until to-morrow. It is now said that Lieut. Greely will have food enough to last his party through the winter.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 18.—People here are astonished that no new expedition will start at once to the relief of Lieut. Greely and his party.

The Candidates Accept.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., September 19.—The committee appointed to wait on Leon Abbett and inform him of his nomination for governor by the democratic convention, assembled at Taylor's hotel this morning. Thence they proceeded to Mr. Abbett's residence and Judge McDermott, of this city, the chairman, tendered him the nomination on behalf of the Democratic party of the State. Mr. Abbett accepted in an appropriate speech.

NEW YORK, September 19.—Judge Dixon says he will accept the republican nomination for governor in New Jersey.

End of a Quarrel Among Heirs.

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The contested will case of Nelson Curtis was withdrawn from the docket this morning in consequence of a compromise satisfactory to all parties. The estate was appraised at $1,648,700, and under the will the bulk was to go to George Curtis, brother of the deceased. The widow received only $75,000. Fifteen nephews and nieces received from $2,000 to $5,000 each, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, the favorite nephew of Mr. Curtis, getting $5,000. By the compromise Mrs. Curtis is to have $250,000, and the remainder is to be divided equally among the heirs.

Drinking His Own Blood.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., September 19.—A fishing schooner picked up on the 12th inst. two Newfoundland fishermen named Walsh and Matthews, who had been adrift in a dory six days without food or water. Both had become delirious, and Walsh had cut open his veins and sucked his own blood to quench his thirst. The same vessel brought in the captain and three of the crew of the wrecked Newfoundland bark Medianna. They could tell nothing of the fate of the remainder of the crew.

An Extensive Fire.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19.—The Fairlawn Breaker, in which an accident two weeks ago resulted in the death of two men, was burned this morning. The fire was incendiary. Several dwellings were damaged. The loss is estimated at $50,000. Five hundred men and boys are out of work.

How to Forecast Weather.

The Farmers' Club of the American Institute has issued the following rules for foretelling the weather:

1. When the temperature falls suddenly there is a storm forming south of you.
2. When the temperature rises suddenly there is a storm forming north of you.
3. The wind always blows from a region of fair weather toward a region where a storm is forming.
4. Cirrus clouds always move from a region where a storm is in progress to a region of fair weather.
5. Cumulus clouds always move from a region of fair weather to a region where a storm is forming.
6. When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the north or northeast there will be rain inside of twenty-four hours, no matter how cold it is.
7. When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the south or southeast there will be a cold rain storm on the morrow, if it be in summer; and if it be in winter, there will be a snow storm.
8. The wind always blows in a circle around a storm, and when it blows from the north, the heaviest rain is east of you; if it blows from the south, the heaviest rain is west of you; if it blows from the west, the heaviest rain is north of you.
9. The wind never blows unless rain or snow is falling within 1,000 miles of you.
10. When heavy white frost occurs, a storm is forming within 1,000 miles north or northeast of you.

The Man to Beat Butler.

BOSTON, September 19.—The Republican State convention was called to order at 11 o'clock. Chairman Lodge, of the State central committee, was chosen temporary chairman and after prayer by Rev. Orvin P. Gifford, addressed the convention.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lodge's address the usual committees and permanent officers were appointed. Chas. R. Codman was appointed president, and on taking the chair addressed the convention at considerable length, his remarks being chiefly in reference to the present governor. He reviewed the Tewksbury affair, and said: "One man has led this crusade against fair famed Massachusetts. A man conspicuous always, of great audacity, of ready wit, of voluble and copious speech, and of restless personal ambition. A man of national notoriety surely, if not of national reputation, who has often solicited and sometimes obtained votes of the people, but who has never been able to retain them long; the legislator identified with congressional raids upon the treasury; the politician who has proposed to the people of the United States to repudiate their honest debts, and so to make their great and solvent country a byword and a hissing among the nations of the earth; the major general, whose most valuable services were as provost marshal and never as the leader of men, and whose successes were those of the sutler and not of strategy." His references to Butler's political and military record and "national notoriety" were loudly applauded by the delegates. He was given three cheers when he concluded.

Robinson was nominated for governor on the first ballot, having 996 votes out of 1,168.

Another Railroad Accident.

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 18.—A freight train and passenger train collided at Corning on the Kansas City, St. Joe and Council Bluffs railroad last night. Frederick Johnson, a route agent, was severely injured and several others were slightly hurt. Both locomotives were badly wrecked.

Killed His Step-Father.

BALTIMORE, MD, September 19.—A fight occurred last night between Philip Sellers and his step-son, Geo. W. Brown, at the house of sellers, at the end of which Sellers was found dead on the floor. Brown was committed to-night by the coroner for the action of the grand jury.

How Watch Cases are Made.

This process of manufacture was invented by James Boss, who started in business in 1854, and the methods and tools used in making these watch cases are covered by patents. This is the only watch case made under this process. For many years the introduction of these goods was slow, owing to popular prejudice against "plated" goods, but gradually the public learned that the James Boss' Gold Watch Case was not a cheap gold-washed or electro-plated article, but was made of genuine gold plates of standard quality and thickness. Conscientious adherence to the determination to make the best watch case ever put on the market, and the adoption of every improvement suggested, has made the James Boss' Gold Watch Case the STANDARD. In this watch case the parts most subject to wear—the bow, crown, hinges, thumb-catches, etc., are made of SOLID GOLD.

Send 2 cent stamp to Keystone Watch Case Factories, Philadelphia, Pa., for handsome Illustrated Pamphlet showing how James Boss' and Keystone Watch Cases are made.

Death in a Coal Mine.

WILKESBARRE, September 23.—A terrible accident happened in the beautiful little town of Kingston, two miles from here yesterday afternoon, by which four men lost their lives. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western coal company last year commenced sinking a new shaft, called the Woodward mine, on the hillside above the town, which is now down five hundred feet. Some days since sinking operations were suspended and work was begun on timbering the lower portion, and six men were employed at this work. Yesterday afternoon, suspended on a platform about sixty feet from the bottom, they were placing heavy beams, weighing over half a ton each, in position. The beams were lowered by the engineer, and one of them not going down straight, the engineer was signaled to haul it up again. He did so, but when he again received the order "lower away," miscalculating the distance, he let the cable run out too rapidly. The beam descended with such force upon the platform that it broke it to pieces, and four of the men—George Bulgg, Thomas J. Davis, Edward Phillips and Isaac Bevan—were hurled to the bottom, falling into twenty feet of water. The other two men—Lewis Jones and Philip Parry—clung to projecting woodwork and held on until they were rescued. The crash of the falling platform was heard at the mouth of the pit, and a band of rescuers was sent down with the utmost speed, but were too late to save the lives of the four unfortunate men. Phillips and Bevan were married men, and leave families of seven and five children respectively.

Yellow Fever in Mexico.

GUAYMAS, Mex., Sept. 22.—Nine deaths from yellow fever have been reported during the last 24 hours. The thermometer has risen to 97 degrees. Fears are again entertained that under the great heat and filthy condition of the streets the fever will again increase and spread. Eleven new cases were reported yesterday. Not enough rain fell to clean the streets, and the hot sun following has tended to increase malaria. The increase of deaths and new cases has driven the people almost frantic, not knowing whether they should flee from the city or remain in the hope that the worst has passed. The members of the board of health have proved themselves utterly incompetent to deal with the matter. It is rumored that Del Valle, the millionaire of the city, who fled to the country, has died.

Iowa Politics.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The gubernatorial campaign in Iowa is being conducted with unusual vigor this fall. The issues outlined are prohibition and a productive tariff for the republican side, and license and tariff for revenue on the side of the democrats. They are calling some of the strongest men into the state. Ben Harrison has been on the stump for the republicans, and Governor Hendricks for the democrats. Congressman William M. Springer, of Illinois, was in the city yesterday, on his way to Iowa, where he will begin to-morrow a series of speeches lasting till the time of the election.

Robbers who Met a Hot Reception.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 20.—The residence of Sheriff Amos Sickel, of this county, in this city, was broken into about 2 o'clock this morning. As two of the burglars were entering the Sheriff's bed room he awoke and, grasping his revolver from under his pillow, fired three times. One of the burglars jumped out of the window and the other down a flight of stairs. They escaped unhurt. It is supposed the men expected to capture some $900 which the Sheriff had in his bed room.

America and Brazil.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The officers and directors of the Central and South American telegraph company are elated over the successful opening of their lines to Brazil, connection being made with the United States via Galveston, Texas. President Arthur this morning sent the following cablegram to the emperor of Brazil: "The president and government of the United States salute the emperor of Brazil through the new channel of direct communication between the two countries this day opened via Galveston and Valparaiso, and see in these multiplied links of intercourse assurance that the happy relations between them will continue and increase, to the material benefit of both peoples and countries.

Congratulatory telegrams were also sent by the chamber of commerce to the commercial associations of Rio de Janiero; by President James A. Scrymser, of the company, to Baron De Capanema, director general of the bureau of telegraph at Rio de Janiero, and by President Arnold, of New York, of the coffee exchange, to Associacas Commercial of Rio de Janiero. The opening of the new lines give the American merchants the advantage of a direct communication with Rio de Janeiro. By the old route to Lisben messages had to cross the Atlantic ocean twice before delivery. The line of the company and its connections comprise 5,610 miles of water and 667 miles of land line, and connect exclusively with 20,000 miles of wire in Mexico and Central and South America. Any of the Western Union companies in the United States will accept messages for any Central and South American company.

A Town in Peril.

BANGOR, Me., September 21.—Three hundred men are fighting a forest fire that threatens the village of Eden, or Bar Harbor and a dense cloud of smoke overhangs the country for miles around. Tourists who otherwise would have remained until late in the season have packed up and left, fearing the threatening flames. The wind is blowing away from the town, but the fire is working up against the wind. Everything in the woods is so dry that the fire spreads rapidly. At night the fire dies down, but by the next afternoon is again under full headway. The fire on Green mountain is smouldering, but no danger is feared from that quarter. News from Mount Desert is awaited with anxiety, for if the wind changes and the fire once gets under way in Bar Harbor much of the town would undoubtedly be destroyed. The fire has not as yet burned through the woods, in which there is much valuable timber. A steamer has been sent from Ellsworth to assist in extinguishing the flames, and it may be necessary to send assistance from this city. A heavy rain is the only thing that can stay the progress of the fire.

Hurricane at Nassau.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, September 20.—A terrible hurricane occurred at Nassau on the 8th inst. Many houses were blown down. Fifty vessels were wrecked. Sixty lives were lost. Among the vessels damaged was the brig Peeress, Captain Dowse, from Sagua for the Delaware breakwater, which put into Nassau in distress, fell over and was seriously damaged. The schooner Mary Jane and Elizabeth, Captain Gaskell, from Baltimore August 27, fell over, filled and sank in port. She will probably be a total loss. The schooner William R. Mackie, Captain Bowling, from New York, August 21, run aground, but got off with some damage. The bark Eliza White (condemned at Nassau) and the schooner William H. Curry, Captain Work, from Long Island, Bahamas, for New York, went aground, but will probably be gotten off. The schooner Mellissa Trask, Captain Trask, for Boston was driven on shore on the sands at Exuma. She is dismasted. The brig Giles Loring, Captain Evans, from New York, August 23, for Mantanzas, has put into Stirrup Ray dismasted.

The Western Railroad War.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—The war on passenger rates between Chicago and Louisville, after running at $4.50 for two days, took a sharp turn downward this morning, and at this hour, noon, are selling at $6, with a rebate of $5, over the Panhandle, and $4, with a rebate of $3, over the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, making the actual rate to Louisville $1. The object of the rebate ticket is to prevent persons from taking advantage at Louisville to go to Indianapolis and other immediate points. The Louisville, New Albany and Chicago is also selling straight, three dollars to Louisville, good for three days, and round trip tickets, good for thirty days, for nine dollars—the regular price one way. It is impossible to say what the next move will be.

Purpose of Gladstone's Visit to Denmark.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The recent visit of Mr. Gladstone to Copenhagen has been made the occasion of considerable comment by Continental journals which profess to see in it a deep-laid scheme to form a coalition against the Austro-German alliance. The English journals ridicule this idea. They declare that there is no political purpose to effect, and say that if Mr. Glandstone had any object of this nature in view it was simply to exercise a purely moral influence in favor of peace.

A Vienna despatch says: "There is reason to believe that Mr. Gladstone's visit to Copenhagen has produced a deep impression here, and may lead to the modification of certain points in the Austro German policy."

A Horrible Accident.

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 23.—At 8 o'clock last night the boiler of an engine running saws at the bridge being constructed over the Red river for the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific railroad exploded with terrific force, killing five persons and wounding five others who were at work as the night force. A boy named Willie Watts was the only person on the boat at the time of the explosion who escaped unhurt. The names of the killed are: Al Humphreys, James Summers, William Thomas, John Mallory and John Burke, all white. The names of the injured are Willie Jones, hurt slightly in the head, Abe Gilliland (colored), fatally injured; Ad Wilson (white), wounded in the head and breast, Ad Watkins (white), scalded, and Henry, a colored boy, slightly injured. The bodies of the five men were all recovered from the river today. They were terribly mangled. The wounded men, five in number, are all doing well except Abe Gilliland (colored) who will probably die. The coroner will hold an inquest to-morrow when the cause of the accident will be investigated.

The Police Looking for Bernard Gallagher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Brooklyn policemen are looking for Bernard Gallagher, the brother of Dr. Gallagher, of Greenpoint, who was arrested in London in April last for being engaged in the dynamite conspiracy and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Bernard Gallagher was also arrested in Glasgow and taken to London, where he was tried on a charge of conspiracy to blow up public buildings. He was acquitted and returned to this country and began drinking to excess. To-day a warrant was issued for his arrest, charging him with being a habitual drunkard. It is the intention of his friends to have him comitted to the Inebriates' Home.

A Better Feeling at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Sep. 21.—Greater confidence is manifesting itself in the financial situation here from day to day. The reports about two small banks being in a tight place for funds are emphatically denied by the managers of the banks; still the depositors are anxious and are withdrawing their money. The stock market to-day is stronger, commercial business is dull and the fall trade is making slow progress. Money is plentiful with the leading banks, but their policy is to give it out sparingly.

Starting Work at Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The recitations of Cornell University began to-day. One hundred and fifty-six persons have applied for admission of which number about fifteen will be dropped. The 1887 boys, in numbers, physique and standing in entrance examination, surpass the classes of any previous year. The new course in electrical engineering opens favorably, and everything betokens a steady and sure progress or the university.

Rumored Conflict with Apaches.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 19.—Various reports have reached here concerning a conflict between the Mexicans and Apaches, but nothing definite has been received. A despatch from San Jose station, on the Mexican Central Railroad, says: "Numerous runners came into Ojo Caliente yesterday, saying that the Apaches were rounding up stock. General consternation prevailed all over the country."

Painters Falling Forty Feet.

ASHLAND, Pa., Sept. 20.—Henry Clayton and J. G. Bodine, painters, were painting a farm house at Fountain Spring to-day, when the scaffolding broke and they were precipitated a distance of about forty feet. The full extent of their injuries cannot be ascertained at present, but their condition is precarious.

League of American Wheelmen.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 20.—The board of officers of the league of American Wheelmen met this morning and elected the following chief consuls: Stephen Terry, of Connecticut; E. L. Beckwith, of Galveston, and W. L. Howe, of Iowa. It was decided to admit the star bicycle and extraordinary challenge machines to all bicycle races.

Reducing Circulation.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—The suspended exchange bank is redeeming its circulation with gold on presentation, but has reduced the amount payable to each person one-half. A demand has been made on the directors to have an official investigation of the bank's affairs which, it is believed, will be acceded to.

Killed by the Fumes of Nitric Acid.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—C. H. Codman, a prominent dealer in photographic goods, died to-day, having inhaled the fumes of nitric acid yesterday. This led to the widely disseminated rumor that Mr. Codman, Chairman of the Republican State Convention, was dead which caused some excitement.

Bitten by a Copperhead.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 20.—John Potts, living near the landing at Schuylkill Haven, was bitten yesterday by a large copperhead snake while removing timber from a small shed adjoining his carriage works. It is feared the wound will prove fatal.

The "Cane Rush" Abolished at Lehigh.

BETHLEHEM, Sept. 19.—The sophomore class at Lehigh University has abolished the old practice of having a "cane rush," and freshmen will hereafter be permitted to carry canes.

Steel Manufactured in Bellefonte.

We are informed that active operations will begin at the Bellefonte Steel Works within three weeks from this date. The following testimonial received by Mr. Henderson proves the superior quality of the steel manufactured:

SEPTEMBER 22, 1883.

MR. HENDERSON: Herewith find a cold-chisel made from the fag steel you gave me on the 15th day of September. My foreman says it is first rate for cold-chisels. Thought you perhaps would like to have the enclosed. Please accept with compliments of J. FEARON MANN.

We have seen the cold-chisel accompanying the above note. It was manufactured at Mr. Mann's Axe Works from steel made at the steel works by the new process, and seems to be a very superior instrument. We shall give our readers further information in regard to this new industry in the near future.

—The report of State Secretary Taggert read before the convention of the Y. M. C. A. at York on Thursday showed that at Philadelphia, through the assistance of Mr. D. L. Moody, $200,000 have been secured, to be applied toward the payment of the debt of the association. At Pittsburg the association building is now in process of erection, which, with the lot, will cost between $90,000 and will be completed free of debt. At Lancaster the debt of $7,000 on the building has been removed. At Berwick, Bellefonte, Shamokin, Scranton and Williamsport building projects more or less matured, have been begun during the year, while at Northeast and Wilkesbarre building funds have been partly subscribed for some time. An increase to the extent of it least $300,000 in the value of property owned by associations within the state has been obtained during the past year.

—On Saturday night a street orator occupied a place near the Diamond in front of Graham's shoe store. He stood erect in an open vehicle and vehemently advocated the medicinal qualities of a medicine which he offered for sale. Catarrh, rheumatism and a half dozen kindred ailments, he said, would disappear as if by magic before its presence. He announced that he was determined to make his compound popular in Bellefonte and that 30,000 people throughout the country who had been healed by it were ready to rise up en masse to sing its praises.

—Mr. James Gregg, watchman at the Phœnix Planing Mill, has been quite ill for several days although he is now much better. On Thursday night he was seized with a sudden and violent cramp and was unable to move for about two hours. When found on Friday morning he was suffering great pain and talked incoherently, leading some people to suppose that he had been attacked during the night by unknown parties and some drug administered to him. Later events show, however, that his illness resulted from natural causes.

—Mr. Lynch Gardner, formerly of this place, was married to Miss Sallie Long, daughter of Mr. William Long, on Saturday evening, at the parsonage, by Rev. Penepacker. The couple departed on Monday for Roanoke, Virginia, where Mr. Gardner has accepted a position in a car manufactory. Both parties are well known hereabouts, and their many friends wish them a pleasant and prosperous life in the South.

—The Lutherans of this place held a congregational meeting on Sunday to take into consideration the subject of the Luther memorial services it is proposed to hold some time in the near future. A rising vote being taken to discover the sentiment of the congregation in reference to it showed a large majority in favor of holding such services. A committee was appointed to make arrangements.

—An ex-soldiers reunion will be held in Heckman's Grove, at Logansville, Clinton county, on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29. Ex-Gov. Curtin, Gen. Beaver and Col. D. H. Hastings will be the speakers. Perhaps there will be a sham battle. All soldiers from Clinton, Centre and Union counties are invited and are requested to bring their guns with them.

—The State Agricultural College in Centre county has but fifty-three students.—Harrisburg Telegraph. The Telegraph is in error. The fall session of the State College opened with an attendance of one hundred and thirty students, an increase of about fifty over last year. In justice to the institution the Telegraph should correct its statement.

—A few drunks on Saturday evening.

Pay Your Taxes.

Under the new constitution of Pennsylvania an absolute requirement of every voter over twenty-one years of age, is that he shall have paid a state or county tax within two years of the election at which he shall offer to vote. Formerly this tax could be paid on election day, and in many places the voters were never challenged on account of non-payment of it. But now it must be paid at least thirty days before the election, so that the only time left to voters is between now and October 6th, and we therefore earnestly urge upon all voters making certain of their right to vote, to hunt up the collector and pay their taxes at once. Those who paid their taxes last year are not required to do so this year to secure their vote, but let all such be sure to hunt up their receipts. The tax required to be paid is very light, and no voter should neglect this important matter; to do so is to endanger his franchise.

—Mr. Samuel Saylor who is in some way connected with the building of a certain number of miles of the Williamsport and Clearfield railroad, better known as the Beech Creek and Cato road, was in considerable trouble last week. Grannis & Candor have the contract for the road and expert contractors say that the price of the contract was too low. During the past two months the Italians who are at work on the railroad received very little money and on Wednesday they became impatient. They surrounded Mr. Saylor's house and demanded money or blood. Mr. Saylor telegraphed to Lock Haven for protection, and Sheriff Smith went to the place accompanied by a posse. Mr. Saylor is not responsible for the lack of money, but the ignorant Italians attribute their misfortune to him because of his connection with the railroad.

Buy the Car Works.

We do not believe it would be difficult to form a stock company to purchase the Car Works with the object of either carrying on car building or engaging in some other enterprise. There are several business men who have a million or so each who could invest a few thousand without missing it. There are young men who have already made a success of business undertakings who are willing to carry a new venture to a successful result. Let about ten of our citizens with the requisite capital invest in the works and select a competent manager among the young men. Then they will have a good investment, an additional source of continual income and no personal inconvenience to themselves.

Forepaugh's Revival of the Equestrian Sports of Ancient Greece and Rome.

In the arrangement and conducting of the races in Forepaugh's Hippodrome, which is to exhibit at Bellefonte on the 11th of October, the manner in which the races will be run, the colors of the jockeys, the construction of the chariots, etc., and the different animals put upon the half-mile track, all will be in exact keeping with the descriptions furnished from historical sources, of the hippodrome races of Rome and Greece, centuries ago. The Roman jockeys rode as ours do now, in different colors, particularly the companies of charioteers, to distinguish themselves. There were generally four, viz: green, red, white and sky or sea color, especially under Caligula and Nero. History states that Domitian added two more colors, golden, or yellow and purple; but these were soon laid aside by the succeeding emperors. Racing, indeed, appears to have been such a favorite diverson of the Romans, that they practiced it with other animals beside horses. Asses were made coursers; and ostriches were competing for the goal. The tyrant Heliogabalus made racing matches with elephants; four being attached to each chariot. He also employed camels for the same purpose.

—Rev. Dr. Litch, an Advent minister of Boston, conducted Gospel meetings in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week and was also present in the regular meeting of the Association on Sunday afternoon delivering an address which was so replete with Scriptural truths carefully and logically presented as to hold the attention of all present from beginning to end. The Doctor shows a familiarity with the Bible which we have never heard excelled. The meeting was the most interesting held in Association hall for months.

—The Daily News has our thanks for its cheap advertisement this past week.—Artistic Augustine.

Not at all, young man, not at all. When a raw article is thrown on the market we always feel like doing a little suthin' towards introducing it to the public.

—The Evening News, a new daily paper published in Renovo, made its appearance in that place on Friday last. We have received No. 2 and are well pleased with its appearance typographically and editorially. It will add to the interest and importance of Renovo at home and abroad.

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall street, N. Y. 18 7 1y

The Court House Roof.

The work of putting a new roof on the Court House has been commenced and shingles and old timbers are being hurled in all directions. The stately old building will thus be given a new lease of life and the administration of justice will go on without interference. It is proper that with a new President Judge it should have, as it were, a new head. A new set of brains is never inserted in an old head and, as the Good Book says, it is unwise to put new wine in old bottles, therefore the Court House must have a new head. What a respectable old building it is, anyway! What prodigious intellects have inhabited it! What lofty flights of oratory have ascended to its ceilings! How many hearts have been gladdened or made miserable by its decrees! When the new roof is completed it will be in order for the county authorities to plan some further ornamentation and improvement for the exterior. For instance, there is a street on either side of the venerable building—East street and West street, we believe, are the names they bear. Substantial pavements should be built on the sides next to the Court House and jail properties. The vacant space between the two buildings might be rendered very beautiful and sightly instead of the eye-sore which many persons now regard it. If this is done it will be a credit to the county.

—The association of the poor directors of Pennsylvania will hold its ninth annual convention in Philadelphia, on October 9th and 10th in common council chamber. The association has been the means of improving the methods of administration in regard to the poor throughout the state, and special importance is attached to the coming convention in view of the recent enactment of laws for the removal of children from almshouses and the passage of the lunacy commission act. Not only are the officers of almshouses expected to be present, but invitations are extended to the managers of the various institutions which care for children and insane persons. It is expected that the children's aid society, of Philadelphia, and those individuals who have had an extended experience in charity work among children will give seasonable advice as to the best method of carrying the new law into operation. R. C. McNamara, of Bedford, Pa., is president of the association.

—Plenty of idle men around town whose chief occupation (?) seems to be to criticise the work of other people. Suppose our town fathers adopt the views of ancient philosophers that idleness is a crime and proclaim that he who will not work shall not eat. Put the idlers to work under Mr. Dunkle on the bridge and pay them in proportion to the value of their services. Or, better still, perhaps, direct them to the different streets and alleys of the town and with Mr. Shaughensey to superintend their work compell them to clean away all the unsightly piles of dirt. Then a great and good work will be accomplished and habits of industry will be inculcated.

Wedding at Mackeyville.

The L. H. Express of Friday alludes as follows to a wedding which is of interest to many people in Bellefonte:

Last evening the residence of Mr. Nathan Maurer, at Mackeyville, was the scene of a happy marriage, the contracting parties being Mr. Wickliff Gardner, of Pittsburg, and Miss Laura Maurer. The ceremony was performed by Elder N. J. Mitchell, and after congratulations splendid refreshments were served to about one hundred guests. A large number of useful presents was received by the bride. H. T. Harvey, Esq., and wife, of this city, were among the guests, in attendance. The happy couple left on the night train for a wedding tour.

Several members of the family of Mr. Win Montgomery of this place, were present.

—The Pennsylvania Miller's State Association will convene in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association at Harrisburg, on Tuesday, October 9, at 2 o'clock p. m., to continue two days. There will be a lecture on Tuesday evening by John D. Nolan, of New York, subject, "What's New in Milling." All the millers are invited to attend. B. F. Isenberg, of Huntingdon, is President, and Landis Levan, of Lancaster, secretary and treasurer.

—Some people assert that they will believe only what they can see. What is clearly demonstrable they will accept, but nothing else. These very people, however, believe with all their might that they have brains, and yet they never saw them, and other folks at any rate have no evidence that they possess any.

—Several pavements been laid this year upon our borough streets, but not half so many as there should have been.

51 AND 53 BUSH'S ARCADE BELLEFONTE, PA.

The W. C. T. U. State Convention.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. will be held in Bellefonte, Centre county, October 10th, 11th and 12th, of this year. It will be composed of delegates from the 225 auxiliary unions in the State. Besides Mrs. Wittenmeyer, Mrs. Hannah W. Smith, Mrs. White and others of the well known home workers, Mrs. Hunt, of Boston, and Mrs. Baldwin, of Trenton, are expected to be present.

Mrs Hunt will lecture on the evenings of the 10th and 11th. Subject "Scientific Temperance Instruction and the necessity of active effort to secure such a law in our State as will make it obligatory." All persons interested will be made welcome.

For orders for excursion tickets send not later than October 5, inclosing envelope properly addressed and stamped, to Mrs. Ellen M. Watson, 112 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Complimentary Notice.

It gives us pleasure to call the attention of our readers to the series of advertisements of the James Boss' Gold Watch Cases now appearing in our columns. This watch case has been on the market for nearly thirty years and has attained a reputation which is second to none, it now being universally conceded to be the standard. The James Boss' Gold Watch Cases are made of two plates of solid fourteen karat gold, soldered on each side of a plate of hard nickle composition metal. These plates of gold are thick enough to admit of engraving, chasing, etc., and supply all the gold needed for practical use, while the composition plate furnishes the strength and solidity needed in every watch case, and yet lacking in those made of solid gold. Although these cases are as good, and in some points better than a solid gold case, the cost is only about one-half as much. Many of the James Boss' Gold Cases have been in constant use for twenty-five years without wearing through the gold. The manufacturers furnish a guarantee with each case warranting it to wear twenty years, and this guarantee means just what it says, for unlike other guarantees furnished so often with watch cases, this is signed by the manufacturers of the James Boss' Gold Watch Cases. Purchasers should avoid any watch case unless the guarantee is signed, as otherwise it is not only worthless but is intended so to be, and the absence of a reliable signature is fair indication that the manufacturer lacks faith in his claims or in his goods.

Business Notices and Other Items.

We have just received our new Fall and Winter Woolens. Call and leave your order. MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

—The Democrat man has discovered that Lew Shaffer is married. Perhaps if he keeps his ears and eyes open now he will hear something, by Thanksgiving time, of the attempted murder of Frazer.

—Never pass the store of Harry Teats & Co. without stopping to purchase a quantity of fresh groceries. You will be glad that you made your purchases there. Try it.

—James Koch, who was a resident of Centre Hall fifteen years ago and is now living in Missouri, has been called to the former place to see his aged mother who is quite ill.

—If you want pure groceries, the choicest goods the market affords in this line, buy of Harry Teats & Co.

—A writer in a Lock Haven newspaper complains that the children attending school are kept confined too long without exercise. There is no cause for complaint on that score in Bellefonte.

—The trade of Harry Teats & Co., grocers, is increasing. In all the vicissitudes of business this store will always be on top.

—The frost is reported to have destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of tobacco in Centre county. The crop has also suffered in other parts of the State. "Two-fors" ought to be plenty next season.

—Mr. William Crawford, of Coalville, an employe of the construction train, had one of his feet badly mashed on Saturday at Snow Shoe, a heavy iron rail falling on it.

—Have you been there? If not, go at once and take some money with you. Buy all the groceries you need and then be thankful that there are such grocers as Harry Teats & Co.

—The glass works of this place supply the entire trade of the Pennsylvania railroad between Philadelphia and Pittsburg. This speaks volumes in favor of the quality of glass turned out at these works.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. The President's Camp Life.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—After due consideration it was authoritatively announced that the President's tour to the Yellowstone was to be a tour of inspection solely and pursuant to arrangements made some time before. So far from its being a trip of pleasure it would be a journey undertaken for information for the public good. Since the return of the expedition it has been announced that Captain Sheridan, the historian of the journey, will write a book about it. Entertaining, as one is safe in believing it will be, it will not be a record of the critical inspection which General Arthur went to make, but rather of the pleasures and diversions of camp life, which was an inseparable part of the tour of duty. Although little has been said on the subject the records of the inspection were probably kept by someone else, perhaps by the President himself. They will no doubt appear in due time in an independent and enduring form. It is highly probable that General Arthur will make extensive allusion to the journey in his forthcoming message. The suggestion will cause the message to be looked for with unusual interest. As there has been no tour of inspection on any such scale before, and never by a President himself, the official report will be awaited with corresponding interest.

Carey's Murderer.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The authorities at the last moment decided to take O'Donnell to Southampton instead of to Plymouth. It is not known whether or not this course was taken because of information received by the police relative to the movements of sympathizers with the prisoner. In reply to questions O'Donnell stated that he had a pleasant voyage; that he had not been placed in iron or hand-cuffed; that his custodians treated him with remarkable kindness, allowing him to go upon deck morning and afternoons, and that his meals were served to him in his own cabin. It is reported that O'Donnell has said that he does not so much mind being tried for the murder of Carey, but that he is afraid he will be recognized by the police as a participant in other affairs. The detectives who have taken charge of O'Donnell are the same men who were engaged in ferreting out the recent dynamite conspirators. The railway car in which O'Donnell will be conveyed to London and the carriages preceding and following it will be filled with policemen.

An Altar that Cost $100,000.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The new high altar was unveiled in the Cathedral to-day and High Mass was celebrated thereon by Archbishop Williams. The structure is one of the most magnificent specimens of ecclesiastical architecture in the country. It is composed of American statuary marble, inlaid with mosaics and panels of Mexican and California onyx and marbles from France and Germany. The altar is of Gothic designs, in keeping with the architecture of the church, and is thirty-nine feet in height from the base to the cross surmounting it. In the midst of the altar, over the exposition niche, is a large niche, in which is to be placed a statue of the Lord, and smaller niches on either side are to contain statues of the Virgin and of St. John. The niches are surrounded by pillars of California onyx, inlaid with panel of Mexican onyx. The cost of the altar is about $100,000.

The Sad Fate of Seamen.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 17.—The government steamer Newfield which has arrived from Sable Island reports that the bark Brittannia, of Shoreham, England, Captain Alfred Garston, from Morant bay for Montreal, went ashore on Fast Bar near Sable Island on the 3d of September. The captain's wife and three children and eight of the crew were drowned, including the first and second mates. The captain and the remaining three seamen have arrived in the Newfield. When the vessel began to break up the crew constructed a raft and all hands were on it when a heavy sea swept them off. The three sailors saved and the captain were able to reach the raft again, the latter carrying with him two of his children, but they died shortly after.

A Strange Case of Suicide.

WILMINGTON, Sept. 17.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning a strange young man walked out upon Third street bridge, crossing the Christiana, and without any ceremony, jumped into the stream. The bridge-tender did not see him until he had left the bridge, but help was then too late, as the man sank and disappeared. Nothing was said of the matter to the police authorities and but one or two persons knew of the affair until this morning.

A Bookkeeper's Badness.

WILKESBARRE, September 18.—J. Williamson late bookkeeper of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, was arrested to-day, charged with attempting to assault the young daughter of C. E. Llewellyn, a mining engineer. He was held to bail. In 1873 he was arrested for a similar offense on two children, which was settled before coming into court.

The next Governor of New Jersey.

TRENTON, Sept. 18.—The republican state convention assembled here to-day. Congressman Phelps was selected chairman of the temporary organization and made a speech. Judge Dixon was nominated for Governor.

Supreme Court Justice Jonathan Dixon, who was nominated for governor, was born in Liverpool, England, July 6, 1839. When he was eleven years of age his parents came to this country and settled in New Brunswick, New Jersey, where his education was continued. He entered Rutgers college in 1855 and graduated in 1859. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1862, and in the same year removed to Jersey City, where he has since resided and practiced his profession until called to the bench. In April, 1875, he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the state by Governor Randolph, and was reappointed in 1882 by Governor Ludlow.

Serious Collision.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 19.—A construction train on the West Shore railroad, going east, at 7 o'clock this morning, struck a hand car four miles east of this city. Fifteen platform cars, with 150 workmen on board, were piled up in a mass. Killed: Peter Smith, of Syracuse; Italian No. 88, name unknown, and John Carr, Jr., water boy. The following is a list of the severely injured: Antonia Passmati, Giovanni Pierrico, Boffelo Nardo, John Radome, Guiseppi Morella, Antonia Nardo, Felix Dististo, Angelo Defno, Guige Lomarzo, Antonio Radome, John Dillon, Edward Ward, John Longstreet. The injured are: Guiseppi Guidice, James Scaly,—Novella. One or two others are not expected to live. The accident was caused by the hand car not stopping in time.

A Row that may Prove Fatal.

READING, Sept. 17.—What may prove a tragedy has occurred in Washington township, this county. Joseph Reitenauer, a widower, aged sixty, rented his house to James Ritter, reserving one room for himself. Reitenauer boarded himself. Ritter came home under the influence of liquor. A misunderstanding arose between the two men because Ritter abused his wife. Reitenauer interfered and Ritter threw him down, broke his nose, jumped on him with heavy hobnailed shoes, fractured three ribs and injured him internally. Reitenauer was picked up in an unconscious condition and is now hovering between life and death. A warrant was sworn out and Constable Frey arrested Ritter at the Bechtelville furnace, where he is employed.

Ten Dollars a Day.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—Governor Pattison yesterday sent to the senate his veto upon the no pay resolution adopted by the senate and house. It is a lengthy state paper and treats the question very exhaustively. The original resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, That (if the house of representatives concur) that the appropriation committees of the respective bodies be and they are hereby instructed to report the appropriation bill for senators and members up to and including September 10, 1873, and that said committees be instructed to report no other appropriation bill, except for officers and employes."

Wanted to Crown Arthur.

WASHINGTON, September 18.—A "crank" appeared at the White House this morning and asked for an interview with the President. He showed great disappointment when informed that the President was in New York. He explained that he had come all the way from Colorado to crown the President king of America, which duty, he said, had been committed to his charge by the Lord Jesus Christ. This man gave his name as Portrait and said he was a native of Germany. He was taken in charge by a policeman.

Clearfield County Primary Elections.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Sept. 17.—At the primary elections on Saturday a very light vote was polled by the democrats. David L. Krebs has defeated Colonel Walter Barrett for the nomination for president judge. Emory C. Read has defeated Samuel McCloskey for county surveyor. The convention will be held in this place to-morrow. Considerable surprise is manifested at the result of the primaries.

The Saginaw Safe.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 18.—The steamer Saginaw, about whose safety there had been considerable anxiety, proves to be safe, as are all her passengers. The Saginaw was laid up at Detroit on Saturday for the season, and her passengers were transferred to another vessel, which is now on its way to this city.

Dynamite in a Bad Place.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A dispatch from Constantinople states that a box of dynamite was recently discovered within the precincts of Galdiz Kiosk, the residence of the sultan. The Circassion guard, which was stationed at the palace, has been exiled.

Cigar Makers in Session.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17.—The national convention of cigar makers opened to-day in Temperance hall with Mr. Strasser, president of the International Union, in the chair. About 100 delegates were present from different parts of the states and the dominion.

A Methodist Minister's Wife Commits Suicide.

ITHACA, N. Y., September 19.—The Rev. A. W. Green, pastor of the Methodist churches here, on going to the parsonage to dinner to-day found his wife hanging by the neck in the garret. Impaired health is supposed to have been the cause of the deed.

No Charge for Consultation.

If you are suffering with any chronic disease about which you are growing discouraged, such as pulmonary trouble, catarrh, bronchitis, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous prostration, etc., send a statement of your condition to Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1109 Girard street, Philadelphia, and get their opinion as to the value of Compound Oxygen in your case. It will cost you nothing. Ask them, at the same time, to furnish you with such documents in regard to their treatment and such evidence in regard to their professional standing as will enable you to clearly apprehend the nature and action of the treatment and give you confidence in them personally.

General McDowell Seriously Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 19.—General McDowell, late commanding the Pacific division United States army, was thrown from a buggy yesterday and his injuries today assume a serious character. His mind wanders and he occasionally falls into a comatose state.

A Remarkable Case.

DR. HARTMAN—Dear Sir: I am induced by a sense of duty to the suffering to make a brief statement of your remarkable cure of myself. I was a most miserable sufferer from the various annoying and distressing diseases of delicate persons, which caused me to be confined to my bed for a long time, being too weak to even bear my weight upon my feet. I was treated by the most reputable physicians in our city, each and all saying they could do nothing for me. I had given up all hopes of ever being well. In this condition I began to take your Manalin and Peruna, and, I am most happy to say, in three months I was perfectly well—entirely cured without any appliances or support of any kind.

Yours truly,
MRS. HENRY ELLIS,
No. 500 Scott st., Milwaukee, Wis.

State Legislation.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—In the house the Jenkins legislative bill was read the first time. After some discussion on the senate resolution to adjourn finally on the fourth of October, it was referred to the committee on ways and means, after which the house adjourned.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup, and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. If your lungs are sore, ches or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cts. Sold by John Harris.

A collector wrote to General Sherman for his autograph and a lock of his hair, and received in reply: "The man who has been writing my autographs has been discharged, and as my orderly is bald I cannot comply with your requests."

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility. $1.

The preacher actually startled the sexton into opening the windows when he told him that the air was so bad in the close church that it put the organ out of tune using it to blow with.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of these distressing complaints? If you think so, call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. Every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. Sold by John Harris.

In a Newport boudoir: "Oh! he is such a charming gentleman and he did not make his money in a vulgar trade, either. No, indeed, he owns a bank, for I have heard people who knew him speak of it. It is in a Western city named Faro."

Why buy worthless nostrums when you can cure your rheumatism or neuralgia with a pure vegetable preparation like Smith's German Olio.

A newsboy in Schenectady made $1,400 by betting on Saratoga races, but whether the moral is to bet on Saratoga races or to be a Schenectady newsboy is not clear.

DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE.—"Rough on Rats" clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, ants, chipmunks, gophers. 15c.

"I don't see why Biggs should be angry with me," remarked Brown; "he has no reason to be mad." "That's just it," replied Fogg; "when a man is mad he must of necessity have no reason."

We have a speedy and positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Headache in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a nasal injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and a sweet breath. Price, 50 cents. Sold by John Harris.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth! If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. 15 22 1y

In Massachusetts a man has $1 taken off his highway tax if he sets four trees along the road.

BE CAREFUL! The genuine "Rough on Corns" is made only by E. S. Wells (proprietor of "Rough on Rats"), and has laughing face of a man on labels. 15 and 25c. bottles.

The smallest amount of copper in iron is said to make the steel made from it worthless.

WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE

A tailor was startled the other day by the return of a bill which he had sent to an editor, and a notice that the "manuscript was respectfully declined."

Hop Bitters.

If and If.

"If you are suffering from poor 'health or languishing on a bed of 'sickness, take cheer, if you are 'simply ailing, or if you feel weak 'and dispirited, without clearly 'knowing why, Hop Bitters will 'surely cure you."

"If you are a minister, and have 'overtaxed yourself with your pastoral duties, or a mother, worn out with 'care and work, or a man of business 'or labor weakened by the strain of 'your everyday duties, or a man of letters, toiling over your midnight work, 'Hop Bitters will surely strengthen 'you."

"If you are suffering from 'over-eating or drinking, any 'indiscretion or dissipation, or 'are young and growing too 'fast, as is often the case."

"Or if you are in the workshop, on 'the farm, at the desk, anywhere, and 'feel that your system needs cleansing 'toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, if you are old, blood thin and 'impure, pulse feeble, nerves unsteady, 'faculties waning, Hop Bitters is what 'you need to give you new life, health 'and vigor."

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you are ill.

If you are wasting away with any form of kidney disease, stop tempting death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible sickness, nervousness, you will find a "Balm in Gilead" in Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malaria, epidemic, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply or sallow skin, bad breath, Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood, the sweetest breath, and health. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

That poor, bed-ridden, invalid, wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health by a few bottles of Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle. 15-9-1y

—The temporary bridge across Spring creek is finished sufficiently to permit the passage of conveyances and pedestrians.

—People say that they heard thunder on Monday, September 17, and that a fierce storm raged at Boalsburg. No rain fell in Bellefonte.

—The late apples seem to be better than those that first appeared. We have seen some very fair specimens of the tempting fruit recently.

—Mr. Daniel McBride, of this place, made an auction sale of his household goods on Tuesday of last week and will move to Kansas soon.

—Mr. Gallagher, the head workman at the Spring creek bridge, unearthed a copper cent the other day which was buried 6 feet below the surface. The coin bears date 1817.

—Mr. John P. Hite, who farms in the vicinity of Houserville, will cut about twenty-five acres of clover for seed this fall. This will be valuable as clover seed promises to be scarce.

—The black ghost with white feet has been discovered. It is a female of somewhat addled brains, whose nocturnal perambulations have been stopped. Artist Augustine refers to it as a deceptio visus.

—Mr. R. H. Moore is clerking for the firm of Wm. Thompson & Co., in their store at Lemont. Mr. Moore is a careful, efficient clerk and the store will be more prosperous than ever with his assistance.

—Mr. Emauel Wolf is the proprietor of the Union hotel at Boalsburg. There is no man in that place who is more honored and esteemed. That he may live long and prosper is the freely expressed wish of ye local scribe.

—The L. H. Journal and the L. H. Express have been enlarged into very formidable proportions. Once there was a frog who tried to swell into the dimensions of an ox. Beware, proud journals, lest the fate of the frog is yours also.

—America's champion hard-hitter, John L. Sullivan, will exhibit himself in Altoona the latter part of this month. A number of the "fancy" of this place will probably avail themselves of this opportunity of inspecting Boston's famous citizen.

—Gen. Blair and other attorneys of this place are interested in a land case that will come up before the Board of Property at Harrisburg. It involves the title to a large tract of land located on the Moshannon adjoining the town of Vanderbilt.

—We learn that a new enterprise has been started in Bellefonte under the auspices of J. W. Moore, to be known as the Bellefonte Copying Company. The fact that he is in control is sufficient guarantee that the work will be of superior quality.

—Mr. James H. Holmes is clearing land extending along the track of the B. & B. R. R. R., northwest from State College. Now when the locomotive appears in sight in that vicinity the escaping sparks will fall harmless to the ground instead of setting fire to the forest and underbrush.

—The tearing down of the High street bridge will interfere with the circus parade on the 11th prox. We doubt if the big elephants and the six-ton "rhinocerous" can be induced to cross the wooden structure. But, then, we wouldn't advise a cessation of work on this account.

—Recently a representative of this paper visited the fine farm owned by Mr. J. S. Boal near Linden Hall. It consists of two hundred acres of highly cultivated farming land. Mr. B's family includes only himself and his wife and daughter. The ladies take much delight in the more refined part of the work, especially floriculture, and have cultivated numerous flowers and plants which show unusual luxuriance and beauty. A wax plant is particularly striking in appearance, climbing almost the entire height and length of one apartment, from which wax-like clusters of blossoms are pendant.

Interesting Meeting of Council.

On Monday evening the regular meeting of the borough council occurred, President Ardell and Messrs. Crider, Brown, Walkey, Tate, Ceader and Shortlidge being present.

The signing of bills was followed by the reading of the minutes by Clerk Mitchell of both the regular and special meetings. They were approved without change.

Mr. Andrew Brockerhoff was present and made a statement in regard to the pavement near Catholic church on Bishop street and also in regard to new pavement in front of his residence.

A written communication from Isaac Thomas in regard to street lamp on Smith treet was read. Mr. T. proposes to put up new lamp at his own expense if council will pay expense of lighting it. Also one from board of appeals saying that for satisfactory reasons C. G. McMillen's water tax should be reduced from $75 to $60.

Mr. Crider for the Street committee reported the sewer at Abe Baum's stable in bad condition and suggests a stone sewer be made. It was referred to Street committee with power to act. Also reported that they did not consider the railing on each side of Spring creek temporary bridge strong enough to prevent accidents, and that one of the abutments is too high.

Mr. Shortlidge for the Water committee reported that the trench for laying water pipe on Curtin street had been dug, but that the pipe had not yet arrived; that estimates for about 18 or 20 perches of stonework around pipes at the bridge were $2.25 per perch; that much of his time had been given to examination of the boilers at the water works.

The Fire and Police committee reported that Manager Munson, of the glass works, would come with a wagon to carry away the refuse hose as soon as such hose is selected and prepared for him to carry away.

The Market committee reported $7.25 market fees.

In the absence of Borough Solicitor John G. Love, Esq., A. O. Furst, Esq., was requested to give an opinion in regard to the merger or consolidation of the Gas Company into a Steam Heating and Electric Lighting Company which we give as follows:

BELLEFONTE, September 17, 1883.

To the Council of the Borough of Bellefonte:

GENTLEMEN: At the request of one of your number, I have examined the law in relation to the question of the Borough as a holder of 188 shares of stock in the Bellefonte Gas Co., agreeing to a consolidation of the said company with the Electric Light Co. and Steam Heating Co., or merging the Gas Co. into a new corporation, possessing and owning the several charters and operating under them.

The new Constitution, Article IX, Sect. 7, provides as follows: "The Assembly shall not authorize any county, city, borough, township or incorporated district to become a stockholder in any company, association or corporation, or to obtain or appropriate money for, or to loan its credit to any corporation, association, institution or individual."

In Lauman vs. Lebanon Valley Railroad Co., 6th Casey, page 42, it was decided by our Supreme Court that a majority of the stockholders had no power to make a single dissenting stockholder a member of a new company formed by consolidation or merger.

Therefore, an agreement of the stockholders to become a member of this new company is a new contract and subjects the member so assenting to other duties and restrictions. In other words, a company thus merged or consolidated is in law a new corporation, and under the section of the Constitution referred to a borough or any municipality is prohibited from so doing. It is no sufficient answer to this to say that the borough has stock in the old company. The law provides a different method for the dissolution of a corporation. A merger or consolidation is a fact—not a dissolution simply, but the creation of a new corporation, with other powers and chartered rights. The spirit of the section referred to in my judgment prohibits the borough from making this new corporate relation.

I do not refer to the several acts of Assembly in relation to the debt of boroughs, &c. The question turns solely under the clause of the Constitution referred to.

A remedy, however, can be resorted to by a sale of the stock held by the borough, and the vender of the stock can act without restriction. Such a sale, in order to secure for the borough the highest price for the stock, should be at public outcry in small lots, so as to create competition.

Very respectfully,
A. O. FURST.

Mr. Furst afterward appeared before council and gave additional advice in reference to the mode of disposing of the stock held by the borough. Further discussion with members of the gas company led him to suppose that the stock would be purchased by them and if so it would be wise to appoint a committee to negotiate the sale, which was acted upon by a motion that "the Finance committee be authorized to negotiate the sale of the stock held by the borough in the Bellefonte Gas Company, subject, however, to the approval of council before the final sale is made."

Pennsylvania Dental Law.

In answer to an inquiry in the NEWS of Saturday, September 15, in regard to the Dental Law and supplement or registration act, I would say—

1st. The intention of the Dental Law, as enacted by the Legislators of Pennsylvania and approved by the Governor, April 17, 1876, is, as all can see by reading the law, to encourage a higher standard of dental education, particularly in Pennsylvania.

The law provides that all that have not been in practice three (3) years before its enactment, are required either to go before a board of examiners, appointed by the Penn'a State Dental Society, when all that are found competent shall be granted certificates by said board, certifying to the applicant's fitness. If, however, the applicant fails he is expected to attend a reputable dental college, and graduate regularly from the same, or retire from the profession, if he does not feel inclined to comply with the requirements of the law.

The legislators evidently took it for granted that all in practice three years prior to the enactment of the law, must have had a reasonable degree of training to fit them for the dental profession, and by their action have so decreed.

2nd. Recently a supplement has been passed to this act above named requiring every dentist practicing in this State to have his or her diploma, or certificate, recorded in the Recorder's office in the county in which he is practicing, or intends to practice.

If the dentist is not in possession of a diploma, or a certificate, the supplement requires that he or she shall make affidavit before a proper officer stating the length of time he has been in practice and where he has been practicing. A failure to do this (or a failure to comply with any of the provisions of the act) makes the dentist liable to a fine of from $50 to $200, whether he has been in practice before April 17, 1883, or not; but this does not exempt him from attending a dental college, or appearing before, and passing the State Examining Board, if he has not been in practice three years before the enactment of the law.

The following is a form of affidavit adopted by the Penn'a. Dental Society, (at its recent meeting at Cresson) recommendatory to all that have neither a diploma or a certificate, nor have attended a regular dental college, viz:

Form of Affidavit to be used under the new law requiring all dentists to register in the recorder's office, with a view to uniformity as nearly as possible throughout the commonwealth.

State of Pennsylvania, }
County of ———. } S. S.

Personally appeared before me——, who being duly sworn according to law deposes and says that he resides in—— of——, county of——; that he has been in the continuous practice of dentistry in this commonwealth for the full term of——years last past, as follows: In the ——of —— and county of —— from the month of—— 18—, to the month of——18—, and in the———and county of———from the month of——18—to the month of—— 18—; and that said term of——years is exclusive of the usual period of pupilage or study under instructions.

Deponent further states that he makes this statement for record in compliance with the supplement to the act of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, passed April 17, A. D. 1876, for the registration of dentists &c.

Sworn and subscribed before me this day of——188—

—There are several bad holes in the pavement on High street between Spring and the Diamond, which makes traveling dangerous, especially on dark nights. We know of several parties who have been severely bruised by falling into these man-traps during the past few days. High street is the most important thoroughfare in the borough, and its sidewalks should be kept in the best possible condition. An expenditure of a few dollars will repair the defects. Fill up the holes.

—There is an old lady living in Bellefonte whose age exceeds that of any which we have yet mentioned residing in this county. In a few days she will be in her 96th year. She is the step-mother of our townsman, S. S. Lyon. Her health is excellent although her mind is feeble. She promises, however, to live for many years and she may complete the century of her earthly existence. She makes her home with the Misses Benner on High street.

—We heard a stranger remark on the street recently that Bellefonte was the liveliest town he had struck in four month's travels. This will make Philipsburg look cross-eyed when she hears of it.

Valuable Ore Property.

Messrs. Struble & Son have lately succeeded in leasing the right to mine their ore to the Collins Brothers and will receive 40 cents on every ton mined. The gentlemen who own the property on which this ore is being developed are enterprising in the highest degree. They went to work before the ore wealth of Centre county was fully known and risked much to develop those hidden resources. Their success caused others to follow their example, which brought about the present activity and made the fact known throughout the State that Centre county is the richest mineral district in the great Keystone. This is glory enough for any man or combination of men, and to Messrs. Struble & Son much of this credit is due. That the railroads which exist both in fact and in imagination may bring to them a golden harvest of wealth is the general desire.

—We have heard of more than one lady in Bellefonte who looks under the bed each night in search of somebody whom they never find. We commend the custom, for it may happen some time that they will be rewarded as a Georgia woman was a short time ago. She saw two colored men safely stowed away in the darkest place of concealment that they could find. Although she was not a bit frightened, the presence of the two negroes angered her and she screamed as loud as she could. The negroes jumped from the window to the street below, alighting on a lazy policeman and breaking his neck. The men escaped, but who can tell what crime was prevented by the lady's fortunate custom of looking under the bed?

—The family of Mr. Thomas Burnside bade farewell to Bellefonte and all their former associations hereabouts and started last Wednesday on their long journey to Missouri. Everybody regreted to part with them, as they and their ancestors have lived in Bellefonte from time almost immemorial and figured as the most prominent and honored residents of the community. We wish them prosperity in the great and growing West. Miss Bella Bell accompanied them and will be excellent company for Mrs. Burnside in a strange land. The people of Bellefonte will also regret to part with Miss Bell as she is a very popular lady.

—The Boston girl is a darling and the high school is admirable, but Artiste Augustine of the Centre Democrat excels either of them. For instance, he elevates his hands with a gesture of consternation and remarks: "Don't say, 'cheese it,' but use instead the words: 'Apply to it a sufficient quantity of that delicious dairy product compounded from cream and milk.'"

—It is strongly suspected from the quality and quantity of the slang he employs, that Artiste Augustine, the new local of the Democrat, was the Bellefonte correspondent of the Owl, that sweet-scented sheet that circulated hereabouts a year or two since. We hope, however, he may be able to clear himself of the imputation.

—The Lock Haven Journal says that an excursion to Snow Shoe is talked of by the Mill Hall Presbyterians, Nittany and Bald Eagle valleys included. If the requisite number of tickets be secured Supt. Blair will give personal supervision to the train. An opportunity to enjoy scenery grand as anywhere. Many should think of it and go.

—The merchants on either side of Spring creek along the south side of High street have again contributed toward the erection of a foot-bridge which will be much more agreeable to pass over than the one erected for the use of vehicles. This action shows considerable generosity on the part of the merchants.

—Mr. John Stewart, of State College, is erecting a fine store building in which to carry on business in the future. He has just finished an excellent dwelling house and with such superior business and home accommodations it can truly be said that Mr. S. is most fortunate.

—The many travelers who visit State College are glad to know that there are excellent hotel accommodations at that place. Mr. J. S. Foster, a farmer and excellent landlord, presides over the destinies of the hotel and makes all guests as comfortable as possible.

—The Bible was handled in a very irreverent manner on the Court House porch on Wednesday afternoon. Frank P. is the name, we believe, of the ill-used object.

—New rails are being laid in the lumber yard of the Phoenix Planing Mill. A turn-table will also be erected.

—Horse-chestnut trees are graceful and beautiful for ornamental and shade-giving purposes, but when the possession of them necessitates the nuisance of from fifty to one hundred boys pelting them with sticks and stones at this particular period of the year some other variety of shade trees become desirable.

—J. W. Smith, one of the pleasant young gentlemen of Unionville, was n to wn last week.

—We regret to hear that the father of John F. Potter, Esq., is seriously ill.

Is a new remedy, originally compounded and introduced to the medical profession, and then to the public at large, by S. B. Hartman, M. D. He has prescribed it to over 40,000 patients with the most gratifying results.

Its effect upon the system is entirely unlike that of any other remedy, and is the only medicine needed in almost every disease to which flesh is heir. (In Constipation, Diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, MANALIN should be given with it.

PERUNA is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, each one, according to medical authors, a great remedy in itself.

Dr. Hartman has succeeded in extracting and combining the active principles of these ingredients into one simple compound, which perfectly coincides with the VIS MEDICATRIX NATURA in every disease, and a cure necessarily follows. There is not an organ it will not reach nor a disease it will not cure.

TIRED ALL OVER.

What Rested and Refreshed a Weary Man in Memphis.

"No, it never amounted to an acute pain, but continued to be a dull, weary ache in the small of my back," writes Mr. James Thomas, of No. 59 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn. "This was an old experience, and life became dull music. I was tired all over, with pain in the lower limbs, and a habit of lying awake of nights. Recently I tried one of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS and was decidedly relieved within twenty-four hours. It may have been Providence that did the work, but I give the credit to Benson's porous plaster." Mr. Thomas' reverential idea does him credit, but Providence works by agents, and among them Benson's plaster ranks first as an external remedy. It acts quickly in relief and healing, and renders life better worth living. Price 25 cents. Look in the middle of the plaster for the word CAPCINE. Ask your physician about it.

Notice.

Our collector, Mr. A. B. Steele, will visit this week Snow Shoe, Glenn Harris, Pine Glenn and Moshannon, and the first and second weeks of October Spring Mills, Penn Hall, Millheim, Aaronsburg, Woodward, Rebersburg, Madisonburg and Wolf's Store. We hope our friends in these several places will be prepared to receive him.

—The birds are leaving for a warmer clime.

—The corn crop suffered some by recent frosts.

—Millheim wants better postal accommodations.

—The strike of glass workers discussed in the larger cities will not affect Bellefonte.

—Now all the travelers over Spring creek bridge are compelled to use the south side of the street.

—The re-constructed flouring mill of Gerberich, Hale & Co. is receiving an application of drab paint.

—Artiste Augustine's fried oyster restaurant is on the corner of Bishop and Allegheny street, second floor.

—The preserving season is almost over and will be followed by housecleaning and the making of fall and winter garments.

—People returning from the picnic on Thursday were covered thick with dust and didn't look as if they had touched water this year.

—Don't ask Artiste Augustine why we give him that name. Fifty persons have interrogated him already on the subject and it worries him.

—Mrs. Hutchinson and family and Mr. Charles Hewes and sister will occupy the house on Bishop street vacated by the family of Mr. Thomas Burnside.

—A letter in the Bellefonte post office is addressed "M. C. Jarden, Jhome, Senter Co., Pa." Exactly what that address signifies is difficult to explain.

—A literary entertainment of a high order of merit will be given in the Town Hall at Millheim on Saturday, September 29. Local talent will participate.

—A sheet of the new 2-cent postage stamps is displayed at the postoffice, but they are only good to look at, not to use, and the postmaster is not permitted to sell any of them until Monday, October 1.

—If we had a million dollars we would spend the winter in Florida, and there where 'the air is heavy with the sighs of orange groves and music from sweet lutes" we'd give Artiste Augustine a rest.

—The views from Point McCoy and from Nittany Mountain seem to be rivals for beauty. What competent judge can tell us which has the greater number of features that contribute to a really fine view?

—Wanted. A few more spectators at the Spring creek bridge. Excellent wages will be paid, according to the ability of the workmen. None but those having experience need apply. Inquire personally or by letter of Mr. Gallagher.

—Rev. W. M. Landis, who has been pastor of the Reformed church of Rebersburg over eleven years, will remove to Beaver Springs, Snyder Co., next week, to serve the congregation in the latter place in a similar capacity. He has accomplished good work in Rebersburg and we wish him continued success.

—Miss Carrie Rankin, of this place, exhibits great talent in drawing and painting. She has long been known as one of the most accomplished ladies in these artistic pursuits in the place and can show many productions of her skill which are really meritorious. She is pursuing her art studies under a competent teacher.

—Zach Steele's left foot was painfully injured on Thursday afternoon while he was unloading railroad ties from a cattle car near Alexander's lime kiln. He removed one of the ties which caused several others to roll from the car, one of them falling on his foot. He suffers much pain although no bones are broken. Hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

—We are so glad to know that Artiste Augustine fries oysters. No wonder so many people are ill since he commenced to furnish the unseasonable bivalves to the people of Bellefonte. To render oysters digestable at this season of the year they should be stewed; and if this community is to be restored to its usual state of health the consumption of the Democrat's fried oysters must cease.

IN THE WOODS.

The Annual Picnic of the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre County.

The 10th annual picnic of the Patrons of Husbandry of this county which took place on Thursday, September 20, on the top of Nittany mountain, was a successful affair in every particular. The weather was very favorable and the attendance was immense. Early in the morning the vehicles containing happy people commenced to roll up the mountain side to the lofty height and continued uninterruptedly until almost noon. At the summit of the mountain a flag was stretched across the road with the inscription upon it "County Grange, Patrons of Husbandry," while over the entrances to the grove on either side of the road arches of evergreen displayed the initial letters of the order, "P. of H." A substantial platform was erected on the grounds from which the speaking took place. It was occupied by the officers of the day together with ladies and gentlemen who are officers and prominent members of the several subordinate granges. The officers elected to preside on this occasion were: President, Leonard Rhone; vice presidents, L. B. Leathers, of Howard Grange; C. Dale, of Victor; Wm. F. Rearick, of Spring; John Grove, of Fair View; L. Neff, of Progress, and Wm. Iddings of Union; secretaries, James A. Keller and G. M. Boal.

The exercises of the morning consisted of an opening prayer by Rev. Whitney and an address of welcome by James F. Weaver, Worthy Master of the County Grange. After these were completed the meeting adjourned until half past one o'clock p. m. During the interval parties gathered at convenient places in the grove and partook of the ample refreshments which they had brought in baskets and bundles and feasted their eyes on the beautiful view spread out before them in the valley below. Both feasts were bountiful and it would be difficult to decide which excelled—the feast of vision or the feast of food.

At the time appointed the picnicers again assembled around the speaker's platform and listened to an eloquent and instructive address by Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, Past Secretary of the National Grange. In his remarks he criticised the State College quite severely, claiming that the institution is not being conducted in strict accordance with the true spirit and intent of the law as framed by Congress. Dr. George W. Atherton, the President of State College, visited the grounds later and was invited to address the audience, which he did in his usual happy manner. Of course he alluded to the criticisms of the College which he was informed had been made by Mr. Whitehead and ably defended the institution, saying that it was accomplishing the intention of its founders. The discussion was carried on in a very able and good-humored manner by both of the gentleman and was enjoyed by the audience. President Atherton's defense was received with manifestations of favor. After the discussion was concluded Mr. Leonard Rhone commended the liberal and charitable spirit in which it had been carried on and adjourned the meeting.

The enjoyment of the day was perfect, all who were there agreeing that it was the most successful and profitable picnic ever held by the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county.

Two excellent bands were present—one from Linden Hall, this county, and the Cedar Run Band, from Clinton county. The attendance is variously estimated, some placing the number as high as between seven and eight thousand, about five hundred of whom were from Bellefonte and vicinity.

Copies of the platform of the Patrons of Husbandry were distributed freely among the people present which we give as follows:

PLATFORM OF THE PATRONS.

The following sound declaration of principles was adopted by the State P. of H., at the recent picnic, at Williams Grove:

OUR PLATFORM.

The enforcement of the constitutional provisions of our Government, State and National.

Equal taxes on equal values—and the assessment of all visible and invisible property for local government.

Making it a criminal offence for members of the Legislature or officials of the State government, or Judges of the courts to accept, or railroad companies to offer, free passes to public functionaries.

Prohibition of discrimination in freights on railroads between individuals and localities.

The introduction into the public schools of primary agricultural instruction in the Natural Sciences, that will be of equal advantage to the children of all classes.

The re-organization of the State College, so that its exclusive work shall be to give instruction to young men and women of all classes, who may wish to fit themselves for Agricultural and Mechanical pursuits, so as to put our Agricultural College on an equal and similar basis with the special schools for the professions, leaving classic literary training to the schools of literature.

Quick and direct communication to farmers the work of the Board of Agriculture.

The investment and interest on the public funds in the State Treasury, to the credit of the state.

Apportionment of the state by contiguous territory based upon the population and industries of the state, giving the people the representation guaranteed by the Constitution.

We demand that the Legislature speedily do the work for which the Governor constitutionally convened it, and adjourn.

In these our laudable efforts we invite all good citizens, without respect to party considerations, to join with us, so that we may have a "government of the people, for the people, and by the people."

Down an Embankment.

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Miles Walker, Commissioners' clerk, met with a thrilling accident. He, with Judge Orvis and other gentlemen, went to the picnic in a carriage, and on reaching the grounds they separated, agreeing to meet again at 4 o'clock to start home. But Mr. Walker misunderstood the time appointed to meet, thinking that it was 5 o'clock. When the hour of 4 arrived all assembled except Mr. Walker, who could not be found although he was searched for high and low. However, as the member of the party who was missing was known to be a first-class Walker the others decided to go on without him and accordingly started. Soon, however, he came, and perceiving that his companions of the morning had taken French leave he hired a man named Lutz to convey him to town. Now it happened that Lutz had traded horses that morning and was not well acquainted with the animal which he drove. But the horse was a fast traveler. Like lightning it passed everything on the road as it sped down the mountain. Just in front of it was the carriage containing Mr. Walker's companions of the morning. An effort was made to pass them, which would have been successful, had not the buggy approached too near the outer edge of the road which caused it to topple over and down the embankment a distance of about 16 feet. The horse and the occupants of the buggy were carried along with it and all were together in a heap, the buggy a wreck and the horse injured. But, strange to relate, neither Walker nor Lutz were hurt in the least. It was a fortunate escape.

Report of the Railroad Committee.

The committee appointed by the recent railroad meeting in Centre Hall to urge forward the completion of the line through Penns Valley have returned from Philadelphia and submit the following report of their work to those whom it may concern:

To the Stockholders in and owners of the line of the L., C. and S. C. R. R. in Pennsvalley: The committee appointed by you to confer with the Pennsylvania R. R. Company respecting the completion of the road to Lemont, visited Philadelphia and had an interview with President Roberts who inquired carefully in regard to all the facts in the case and promised to lay the whole matter before the directors of the Penn'a R. R. Company at their next meeting on Wednesday, September 26, 1883, and request them to appoint a meeting to confer with us. The committee feels assured that this meeting will result in a speedy determination as to whether the Pennsylvania R. R. Company will or will not complete the road and we have every reason to trust that the decision will be favorable to us.

W. C. T. U. Work.

We believe there is an organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Bellefonte, for the announcement that the State convention will meet in this place this year would suggest the existence of such a branch organization. If so, it may be of interest to them to know, if they do not know it already, that Wednesday, September 19th, was what is termed "Flower Mission Day," to be observed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Unions all over the land, by "visiting penitentiaries, prisons, reformatories, etc., carrying tiny bouquets to which are attached little cards upon which are printed or written texts from God's own book." The organization in Lock Haven appropriately observed the day. We haven't heard of its observance in Bellefonte, however. Hereafter the date will be changed to the 9th day of June.

—Please announce the date for the next piano fund rehearsal.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Two Aged and Honored Citizens of Centre County are Numbered with the Departed.

Mr. Joshua Potter, who resides about four miles from Centre Hall, died last Saturday morning after a long illness. He was the father of our townsman, John F. Potter, Esq., and had in all six children, three sons and three daughters. The disease with which he died was sarcoma, a cancerous tumor, which had afflicted him a long time. Some time ago he was taken to Philadelphia for treatment, the famous Dr. Agnew being consulted, but gave little or no relief.

Fergus Potter, father of the deceased, was a native of Ireland, from whence he came over eighty years ago and settled on the property which is still in possession of the family near Centre Hall. There Joshua was born and there he died at the age of almost 80 years, his 79th birthday occurring last April. There is perhaps not a similar instance of long residence in one place in the history of the county. His wife, an aged lady, is still living. Two older brothers died within a year past.

Mr. Potter bore his sufferings with Christian resignation. He eat heartily and slept soundly during all his illness, until the last few weeks. He still craved food but partook of nothing solid, owing to a difficulty in swallowing.

He was a devoted Presbyterian, and has been an elder in Rev. Dr. Hamill's church during the past forty years.

The funeral was held on Monday morning, Sept. 24, at 9 o'clock. Interment at Centre Hill.

Dr. William Irvin Wilson expired at his residence on Spring street of this place Saturday morning at about 10:15 o'clock. The deceased was 89 years of age and had been associated with the medical practice of this county since the year 1818, when he located in what was then known as Earlystown, about 2 miles west of Old Fort. The deceased was a son of Hugh Wilson, Esq., of Lewisburg, and was born in what is now Hartley township, Union county, on the 10th of November, 1793. He was married to a daughter of James Potter, Esq., on the 23rd of February, 1819, and is the father of Mrs. A. G. Curtin, wife of ex-Governor Curtin. His other children are Mrs. Lucy Moyer, Miss Mary Amelia Wilson and Miss Alice Wilson, of this place; Mrs. Rev. Geo. Elliott, of McConnellsburg, Mifflin county; Mrs. Rev. John Elliott, of Oswego, Kansas, and Col. Wm. P. Wilson, of Trenton, N. J.

Many interesting incidents are told regarding Dr. Wilson's practice in Penns Valley. It extended into Kishacoquillas valley, Mifflin county, and into Brush valley, this county. He traveled on horseback to visit his patients and averaged thirty miles a day.

He continued to reside at Potter's Mills until the infirmities of great age rendered it impossible for him to practice, when he came to Bellefonte. He was perhaps, the oldest male citizen of Bellefonte.

A Silver Wedding.

From the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin we clip the following paragraphs concerning the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haag of that city. Mr. Philip Haag, it will be remembered, is a brother of Mr. Gotlieb Haag, of Pleasant Gap:

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haag celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day at their pleasant home 317 W. Fourth street Wednesday night. There was a large company of relatives and friends present by invitation to unite with them in properly observing the interesting occasion. Rev. J. Young, of the Market street Evangelical church, was among the guests and he conducted the formal services. He made a brief and very impressive address to Philip and Sarah the bride and groom of the evening, congratulating them upon the blessings which they had been favored with, particularly the blessing of children. A prayer from Mr. Young followed the remarks. A very inviting supper was served which was heartily enjoyed by all. A valuable lot of presents came to Mr. and Mrs. Haag.

The presents were greatly admired. Mr. and Mrs. Haag were heaatily congratulated by all, especially upon their youthful appearance. They have five children, all of whom were present but one son who is attending school at Binghamton.

—The foundation of the new Catholic church extends as far back as the cemetery in the rear and it was necessary to remove the contents of several graves to make room for it. The work thus far accomplished shows that the church building will be the largest in town, and as the congregation is one of considerable proportions, the wisdom of erecting a large structure is apparent. It will be 112 feet in length. The old church will make an excellent school building and will probably be used for that purpose.

Personal Pencilings.

Artiste Augustine has been out of town for several days.

Mrs. Mollie West, of Pittsburg, is visiting friends at Millheim.

Mrs. George Potter, of this place, is visiting friends in Lock Haven.

Dr. Hibler and lady returned from their wedding tour Friday morning.

J. H. B. Hartman has been appointed collector of state and county taxes at Millheim.

Mr. Wm. Schofield, of Huntingdon, is a guest of his brother, Mr. James Schofield, of this place.

J. N. Welliver and G. W. Hipple, Esq., of Lock Haven, made a recent business trip to Milesburg.

Miss Annie Condo, one of the fairest inhabitants of Illinois, is visiting relatives and friends in Boalsburg.

Mr. John C. Henderson, a citizen of Julian, gave us the pleasure of his presence in our office one day recently.

Mrs. W. E. Burchfield, of Philipsburg, daughter of S. T. Shugert of the Centre Democrat, is visiting her friends in Bellefonte.

Miss Emily Harris, the charming daughter of Mr. John P. Harris, departed for Cincinnati last Wednesday to attend school.

Rev. Crittenden left on mail East last Thursday for the Kettle Creek region in upper Clinton county, expecting to be absent a couple of weeks.

Wilmer Crow, of this place, read a paper on the subject of "Boy's Work" at the State conference of Y. M. C. A. general secretaries which was held a few days ago at Carlisle.

Mr. Henry Krumrine, of Spring Mills, accompanied by a grand-daughter and a grand-son, have gone to Stephenson county, Ill., to spend a few weeks among friends.

Mrs. Schauvent, of Harrisburg, is a guest of Mrs. Harvey Mann. Mrs. S. is a daughter of the late Judge James Burnside and a grand-daughter of General Simon Cameron.

Mrs. Rider and her son Mr. James Rider, of Guyer, spent a few hours among Bellefonte friends on Tuesday of last week and inspected the art preservative of all arts as illustrated in this office.

The numerous friends of Miss Sallie Hoffer, daughter of Mr. John Hoffer, the merchant, will be delighted to know that she is rapidly recovering from her recent somewhat serious illness.

Judge Orvis was interested in cases that came before the United States Court in Williamsport last week, which necessitated his presence in that city for a day or two. He is at home again now.

W. F. Reeder, Esq., has taken possession of his handsome new residence on Allegheny street recently purchased of Mr. Charles McCafferty. The latter will reside in the house vacated by Mr. Reeder.

Mr. Adam Boyer, who has been toll-gate-keeper at Millheim for a long time, has decided to move to Detroit, Kansas, and started on Monday, September 24. We wish him success.

John Wagner came in from the mountain on Wednesday with a string of nine squirrels, three blacks and six greys. This is the largest haul made this season by any of the Bellefonte sportsmen, and John will be awarded the pastry.

Among the visitors at Millheim are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Seibert, of Harrisburg, who are guests of Sheriff Musser. Rev. C. F. Deininger and lady, of New Berlin, departed for their home on Thursday after a brief but enjoyable visit.

Mr. James Grove and niece have returned home to Spring Mills from their recent trip to Iowa and Kansas. Mr. G. formed a high opinion of the former State and believes it is the best place for young men to locate in. Mr. G. is probably correct.

Mr. C. A. Everett, who resides near Lemont, expects to remove to the West in the spring. He is a step-son of Mr. Wm. Thompson, Sr., of near Lemont. Although we don't advise any one to go West we do wish Mr. E. success if he concludes to go.

Mr. Scott, of Williamsport, the indefatigable school book agent, attended the Granger picnic on Thursday. It was doubtless sort of a holiday to him, or was he really trying to convince the farmers that the school books he represents will give them better instruction in cultivating corn and potatoes than those published by other houses?

Mr. W. R. Teller, the genial proprietor of the Bush House, has several specimens of tobacco displayed in his office which are much admired by the devotees of the weed. This tobacco is raised in Virginia and the best quality brings as high as $75 per hundred pounds. Most of it is shipped to the Pacific coast.

Mr. John Kirchmeyer, bookkeeper for Valentines' Store Co., "Limited," spent Sunday at his home in Williamsport.

General James A. Beaver, who was present at the State Convention of the Y. M. C. A. at York, arrived home on Saturday.

Miss Humes and Miss McGill are about to open a boarding house in the fine stone residence on Allegheny street formerly occupied by Mrs. Butts.

J. W. Gephart, Esq., was chosen president of the Y. M. C. A. State Convention at York. This is quite a distinguished honor.

Miss Maggie Allison and Miss Kate Wolf, two pleasant young ladies from Clinton county, are the guests of Mrs. Hillibish of Thomas street.

Misses Alice and Sallie Patchin, of Clearfield, arrived in town on Wednesday and tarried during the night with their cousin, Mrs. Sallie Shaffer. They recently attended the Provincial fair in Toronto, Canada, which was a splendid exhibition and afforded them much pleasure. They made quite an extended tour of the Queen's Dominions and obtained some glimpses of royalty in the persons of the Princess Louise, the Marquis of Lorne and Prince George. They thought that the Princess Louise, though not at all beautiful, was very sweet and gracious in appearance. A Mr. Fulton, a resident of Shamokin, who accompanied them, also looked for the first time upon royalty during this trip although he has visited England several times.

A Wife's Appeal.

We have received a communication signed "Wife of a drinking man," the name of the writer, however, not being given. In all well regulated newspaper offices it is customary to take no notice of commnications where the name of the author is withheld, but the thought that we may be of some service to one whose daily experience is fraught with sorrow and misgivings induces us to make an exception in this case. Our correspondent writes as follows, and we call the attention of the temperance workers of Bellefonte to her words:

BELLEFONTE, Sept. 21, 1883.

MR. EDITOR:—Don't you think it would be a good idea if some of the temperance ladies or gentlemen of Bellefonte would invite Francis Murphy here to hold some of his temperance meetings as he did three years ago? He is now in America. He landed last week, and I think is in Philadelphia. Will you not, through your paper, make the proposal? I have a drinking husband, and almost every day of his life he comes home drunk, and I can do nothing myself and must bear with it. I think something could possibly be done to save the drinking husbands, fathers and sons of Bellefonte. Will you give this request some thought and I have no doubt it will be of great benefit.

WIFE OF A DRINKING MAN.

Capitalists in Bellefonte.

There is no truth in the report made public on Saturday that the Messrs. Valentine are contemplating the sale of their valuable ore lands and ironworks to the capitalists now here. The visiting gentlemen have an entirely different purpose in view, which they do not care to state at present. It has relation, however, we are assured, to the Nittany Valley railroad. We are glad to hear the rumor contradicted as there is no reason why the Messrs. Valentine should not retain all their valuable lands and themselves build and operate an immense furnace as they are possessed of all the capital necessary to carry on such an enterprise successfully.

—It is suggested by some son of Belial that the temperance delegates who will visit this place to attend the State Convention of the W. C. T. U., on the 11th of October, will be just in time to attend the circus. Perhaps they will consult their own pleasure, however, in regard to visiting the tented exhibition.

—Mr. Frank Wescott, of the glass works, was agreeably surprised on Saturday by the gift of a costly and elegant meerschaum pipe from Mr Munson, superintendent of the Bellefonte Glass Company. It was in honor of Mr. W's birthday which was celebrated on Saturday.

MARRIED.

WAY—BLACKBURN.—At the residence of the bride's parents, by the Friends' ceremony, on on Tuesday, September 18, Mr. Adam B. Way, of Curwensville, Clearfield county, and Miss Jennie Blackburn, of Half Moon township, this county.

HENDERSON—WEAVER.—At the United Brethren parsonage, on September 1, by Rev. U. Conley, Mr. John Henderson and Miss Sarah J. Weaver, both of Fowler, this county.

SYLVIS—HICKS.—At the hotel in Pine Grove Mills, on the 17th of September, by J. Alfred Keser, John W. Sylvis, of Oil City, Venango county, Pa., and Mary E. Hicks, of Stormstown, this county.

DIED.

SHIFFER.—In Pine Grove, Saturday, September 8, 1883, John Shiffer, aged 68 years, 6 months and 14 days.
